For Slogan At Ohioville

5 Youths Facing Charges In Tower Painting Case

Five Ohioville and Industry area youths are awaiting disposition of charges stemming from painting a slogan on the Ohioville water tower in May and an attempt to again paint it Sunday morning.

Bobby Joe Todd and David Burton, both 18 and of Ohioville, and three juveniles are involved in the case, Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich reported today.

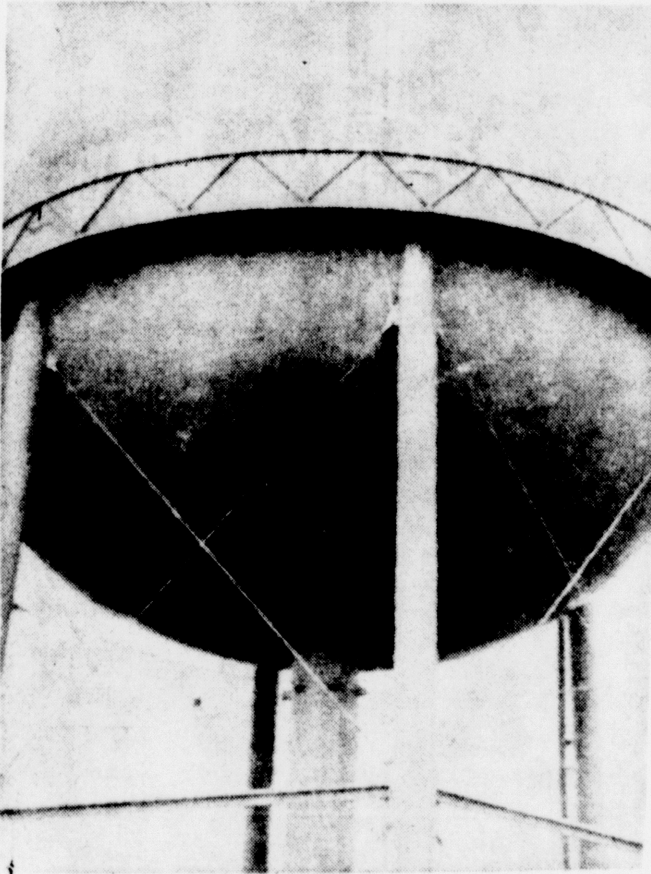

Four of the youths are linked to the painting of a slogan on the large tower near Fairview last May, Chief Zlatovich said.

The juveniles, aged 17, were released in custody of their parents and their cases referred to Beaver County authorities.

Todd and Burton face disorderly conduct charges and are to have a hearing before Justice of the Peace Fred Wilton Monday.

Chief Zlatovich and Patrolman Jim Dunlap spotted some of the youths in the area of the tower Sunday morning about 2:50. The boys were apprehended and after further investigation four were linked with the painting of a Western Beaver 1966 class slogan on the tower in the spring.

Paint and brushes were recovered from the scene Sunday.

PAINTED SLOGAN. Four of five Ohioville area youths are linked to the painting of this slogan on the Ohioville water tower and all are charged with a new effort to paint the tower Sunday. Officials said it will cost some $400 to paint over the slogan which reads, "Hi Arb. We's Bad. W. B. 66," referring to Michael Arbutina, principal, and the Western Beaver High School class of 1966.

Board Outlines Courses If Levy Wins Or Loses

The Board of Education has made clear what reinstatement and expansion of services will take place if the 3.5-mill school levy receives approval Nov. 8 and what additional curtailments will result if it fails.

The members, meeting in regular session Monday night at the high school, unanimously adopted a resolution which pro-

Special Session Set

On Extra Fund Action

The Board of Education will meet in special session Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to discuss action taken by the Ohio Controlling Board, meeting earlier in the day at Columbus, on the building program here.

The controlling board is to hand down a decision on additional funds of $1.5 million to help meet the cost of the local construction.

If the state approves the extra money, the local board will take action to award contracts to the lowest bidders for work on the new high school and three elementary buildings.

Bids received were approximately $1.5 million in excess of the 1963 estimates. The state already has indicated it will provide $944,958 toward the program, with $3,380,000 coming from a local bond issue.

vides that if the levy passes it will, "in an orderly fashion," enable the school system to:

1. — Rehire additional staff members no. employed due to cutbacks.
2. — Reinstate the high school developmental and remedial reading program.
3. — Reinstate the driver education program the second semester.
4. — Maintain well-qualified teachers.
5. — Introduce kindergarten in September 1967.
6. — Reinstate, on Nov. 14, free bus transportation for students in grades 9 through 12 who live one mile or more from school.
7. — Eliminate the materials fee charge with the beginning of the 1967-1968 school term.
8. — Reinstate cross-country, wrestling and the coaching staff.

IF THE LEVY is defeated the board resolution points out further cutbacks in the general operation will be necessary, such as:

1. — Continued staff reduction of teachers.

2. — Elimination of junior high industrial arts, home economics and art programs.

3. — Elimination of elementary, vocal and instrumental music programs.

4. — Elimination of junior high athletics and elementary physical education.

5. — Elimination of track, baseball, golf, gymnastics, cheerleader supervision and intramural programs.

6. — Elimination and curtailment of extracurricular activities, including clubs, yearbook, newspaper and forum.

7. — Elimination of bus trips.

Soviet Bloc To Discuss War, China

MOSCOW (AP)—Viet Nam was a top topic in Moscow today as leaders of the Soviet bloc gathered to discuss the war and the dispute with Red China.

Vague hints circulated through foreign embassies that the Soviet Union may have Hanoi's approval to begin moving toward a Viet Nam settlement and had called the week-long meeting to coordinate this with its allies.

There was no confirmation of that, however, and diplomats said the Communists probably would produce a tough statement on Viet Nam for propaganda purposes even if the underlying trend is toward peace.

Attending the Communist conference are Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov, Cuba's Osvaldo Dorticos and Raul Castro, Czechoslovakia's Antoni Novotny, East Germany's Walter Ulbricht, Hungary's Janos Kadar, Mongolia's Umezagin Tsendenbal, Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka and Romania's Nicolae Ceausescu, plus Soviet host leaders Leonid Brezhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin.

The visiting Communist chiefs also are expected to see Soviet cosmonauts launched into orbit Thursday.

Informants in London reported that British Foreign Secretary George Brown was confident that the Soviet Union would actively support Viet Nam peace-making efforts if the United States stopped bombing North Viet Nam. Brown recently had several talks in New York with

Spike Slaying Still Clouded In Mystery

Noted Churchman And Rights Leader Slain In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The violent death of Dr. Robert W. Spike, a nationally prominent churchman, educator and civil rights leader, remained shrouded in mystery today.

An unexplained layover here Monday ended in the bludgeoning slaying of the former executive of Church's Commission on Religion and Race at a time Spike originally had planned to be back in Chicago teaching divinity students.

Dr. Spike, 42, a ministry professor at the University of Chicago, had said he would take an early morning flight back after delivering Sunday's dedication speech for the United Christian Center a half-block from the Ohio State University campus.

Coroner Robert A. Evans said Dr. Spike evidently died at about noon Monday.

The body, clad only in a green raincoat, was found by a custodian about 1:30 p.m. in a guest room of the building he had helped dedicate.

Dr. Spike's skull had been smashed by at least two blows, the coroner said, with a weapon that may have been a claw hammer penetrating four inches in one spot.

The minister lay beside the guestroom bed, face up on the floor near his neatly placed shoes and socks. His suit was in a nearby closet, his underclothes hanging on the bathroom doorknob.

Mystery continued to dominate the case today, including any motive for the crime.

Could it have been robbery? Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson said only $5 was found in Dr. Spike's belongings, highly unusual for a man of the victim's status on an out-of-town trip.

Could it have been connected with the minister's civil rights activities? He received dozens

City Trucker Injured In Route 30 Accident

A city driver was injured when his truck overturned on Route 30 east of Laughlin's Corners this morning about 8:30. Pennsylvania state police at Carnegie reported.

Paul Allen Packer, of 1925 Smithfield St. was headed east about a quarter mile from the intersection with Route 168 when the steering mechanism on the truck broke and he lost control.

The truck went off the roadway and overturned on its side, dumping a load of concrete laundry sinks, officers said. Packer was slightly injured, the officers added.

Tidal Wave Alert Lifted In Honolulu

LBJ, First Lady Weren't Disturbed As Warning Came

HONOLULU (AP)—Thousands of persons evacuated low-lying homes around the Pacific Ocean basin Monday night because of a tidal wave alert that proved unnecessary.

The Coast Guard lifted the alert at 4:30 a.m.

Alerts were broadcast following the violent earthquake in Peru and lifted after four hours of tension when the wave failed to appear.

President and Mrs. Johnson were in Honolulu, at the start of a trip to Pacific and Asian countries, when the alert came. High in a hotel, they were not disturbed.

When the quake-caused wave reached Oahu Island just after midnight it was barely discernible. At Hilo, on Hawaii Island, gauges showed a rise of four inches.

Coast Guardmen in San Francisco, advised by the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey in Hawaii, lifted the alert.

There was no report on the U.S. west coast of any unusual tidal action.

At Crescent City, Calif., residents were ordered five blocks back from the coast as officials recalled the March 1964 wave that smashed most of the city's ocean-front business and killed a score of persons.

In the California communities of King Salmon, Samoa, Fairhaven and Manila, all near Eureka and Crescent City, between 3,000 and 4,000 persons were evacuated to higher ground.

At Canon Beach and Seaside on the northern Oregon coast, all the 4,000 residents were asked to evacuate and the Coast Guard said most complied, going to gymnasiums and National Guard camps.

Driver Dies In Crash At Port Homer

A 29-year-old Toronto area man was fatally injured in a collision of his car and a tractor-trailer truck at Port Homer late this morning.

Charles Taylor of Toronto was pronounced dead at City Hospital where he was rushed by ambulance following the Route 7 collision about 11:10 a.m.

Witnesses said he was operating a compact auto which apparently went over the medial strip and collided with the oncoming truck.

The impact demolished the front side of the car from which he was hurled. A wrecker was summoned to lift the wrecked auto from the driver who was pinned under the auto, witnesses said.

The truck driver was apparently unhurt. Witnesses said the motorist was passing a line of cars when he apparently went out of control and the car went over the medial strip.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville was investigating, but officers did not have details of the crash.

The victim reportedly worked at the Peerless Clay Co. for some time, but more recently had been working on construction at the Ohio Edison Co. at Stratton.

LBJ Expects No Major Peace Plan At Manila

Seeks Injunction Under T-H Law

LBJ Orders Court Action In General Electric Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Court action to end a walkout of General Electric Co. workers has been ordered by President Johnson, the White House announced today.

The President directed Deputy Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to seek an injunction under the Taft-Hartley law, which would send the strikers back to work for 80 days.

The brief first announcement did not specify whether the action would apply to all strikers or to a limited number at more strategic plants.

About 30,000 employees of the company have struck over local issues despite a contract agreement which averted a company-wide strike during the weekend.

At one key plant, 6,000 workers were out at GE's Evendale, Ohio, plant where jet engines are made for F4 Phantom fighter planes used in Viet Nam.

Johnson sent his instructions from Honolulu, where he is starting a Far Eastern tour, after receiving a report of a special board he named Monday to look into the strike situation.

A nationwide strike against the huge defense supplier was averted over the weekend with the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers ratified a national agreement worked out under White House mediation. The IUE represents 80,000 of GE's 125,000 workers in 160 plants.

But more than 36,000 members of several unions struck plants in six states Monday, apparently over local issues. Although union leaders at some struck plants were urging members to return to work today, strikes remained in effect at Warren, Mich.; Pittsfield and Ashland, Mass.; Sandusky, Ohio, and Schenectady, Utica and Auburn, N.Y. Others are threatened at Louisville and Owensboro, Ky.

If the inquiry board's findings indicate to Johnson that the nation's safety is imperiled by the strikes, the President may direct the attorney general to seek an injunction, forcing the strikers back to work for an 80-day cooling-off period.

Death Toll Rises In Peru Quake

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The death toll from a violent earthquake along Peru's central coast climbed toward 100 today, but tidal waves generated by the earth shock diminished as they rolled across the Pacific.

Hawaii, where President Johnson was spending the first night of his Asian tour, was put on a tidal wave alert with sirens sounding a warning every hour. Only a minor wave reached Hawaii's shores and the alert was called off.

High seas along the Peruvian coast went down during the night. Unofficial reports told of 83 dead in Peru from the quake, at least 1,000 injured and unknown numbers homeless, but the count was far from complete. Many persons spent the night in the streets.

The severe quake, 7.6 on a scale with a maximum of 9, rocked and terrorized the coastal area for about a minute and a half Monday afternoon.

Thousands ran screaming into the streets, village plazas and

Viet Cong Strike In Broad Attacks; U.S. Bombs Buffer

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong cut loose today with terrorist attacks from Saigon to the northern border area. The U.S. command announced resumption of air attacks on the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

In five grenade, mine and shooting attacks, terrorists took at least eight lives and wounded 62 persons, including five U.S. servicemen.

In one attack, mines derailed a train. In another, a grenade in a movie house killed or wounded 51 Vietnamese.

The U.S. air bombardment of North Viet Nam was sharply reduced Monday for the third straight day by monsoon rain storms. But U.S. headquarters reported nine bombing missions against Communist positions in the demilitarized zone, including one against a storage area on the eastern end of the zone.

This was the first U.S. strike east of Highway One since the American command last Friday said it might end the bombing pause it had called in the eastern sector two weeks before.

U.S. B-52 bombers staged two raids in South Viet Nam Monday night. The giant planes returned for a third day to bomb suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations in the central highlands 35 miles south-west of Kontum City. Other eight-engine bombers hit at a suspected Viet Cong headquarters and troop concentration 70 miles northwest of Saigon, near the Cambodian frontier.

Ground fighting continued on a small scale, with only scattered engagements reported.

The largest of the terror attacks was a grenade thrown into a movie theater in Quang Tri City, provincial capital of South Viet Nam's northernmost province.

'Workable Program' Sanctioned By Council

Council enacted a resolution Monday night authorizing Mayor George E. Willshaw to submit a so-called "workable program" for community improvement to the Chicago regional office of the federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Submission of the plan is part of the city's application for federal aid for various projects, including establishment of a low-cost housing program.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council the "workable program" must be filed before the federal government will consider requests for loans or grants for any projects.

Gets Warm Reception In Hawaii

400,000 Welcome President, First Lady At Honolulu

By FRANK CORMIER
HONOLULU (AP)—President Johnson island hops farther across the Pacific today after insisting that the Manila conference will produce neither new strategy for the war in Viet Nam nor a spectacular peace formula.

Johnson, still five days from Manila on his 29,000-mile Asian trip, was heading from Hawaii to New Zealand via Pago Pago, in American Samoa.

The President and his wife got a rousing reception Monday in Honolulu. Tens of thousands—many of them young people—jammed miles of downtown streets in a friendly colorful greeting. The state's delighted Democratic governor, John A. Burns, gave an unrestrained crowd estimate of 400,000.

Johnson responded in typical fashion, hopping out of his car at least a score of times to shake hands and, when staying inside, shouting through loudspeakers mounted inside the train, "Aloha, good to see you." Even while reveling in the welcome, however, the President made clear his attention was on Manila and the Viet Nam war.

In two formal speeches in Hawaii, he went out of his way to discourage high hopes for his Oct. 24-25 meeting in the Philippines with leaders of six other countries fighting alongside the United States in Viet Nam.

At the East-West Center on the University of Hawaii campus, with several score antiwar placards hoisted above the crowd, Johnson said:

"I want my fellow countrymen to know that we are taking with us no magical wands and no instant solution."

Earlier, arriving at Honolulu International Airport, Johnson discarded much of his prepared speech and read another which said:

"We do not expect to pull any rabbits out of any hats at Manila."

Without getting specific, Johnson said, "Some have predicted that this or that will happen in Manila." He said that some have forecast the sessions will produce "a new strategy of war or come forth with some spectacular formula for peace."

Johnson will be the first American president to visit American Samoa, a group of tiny islands in the South Sea that have been U.S. territory since 1899.

They fly from there to a New Zealand air station at Ohakea whose runway is big enough to

Thieves Get Auto, Tools At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Style and convenience was apparently the aim of a thief or thieves who stole a new 1967 auto loaded with tools from the Neil Motors of 79 W. Clark St. early today.

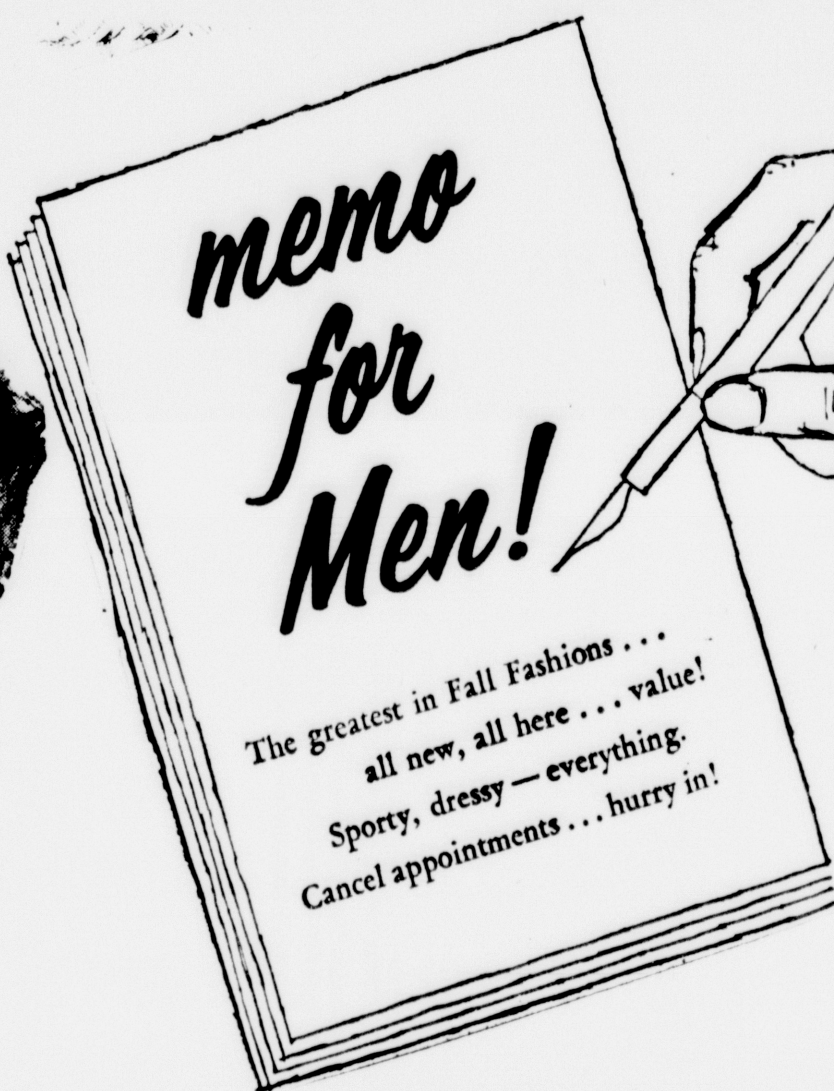

City police said a rear window of the agency was broken and a door unlocked to enter the agency.

The intruders took a quantity of hand tools from the repair department and drove an un-sold Dodge Coronet Deluxe model out the door and away.

The vehicle, estimated to cost about $3,000, was dark red with a white top.

Full Financial Report Due On County Home

LISBON — County Commissioner Robert Owen of East Liverpool asked for a full financial report on Columbiana County Home operations at the commissioners' meeting Monday.

He referred to an unfavorable report given newspapers last week by Commissioner James W. Boyd, also of East Liverpool. Boyd's report said farm production is less than it was a couple of years ago and crops are being neglected.

Owen's motion, seconded by R. Max Gard of Lisbon, calls for a report of all income and expenditures, the status of residents, and operating expenses and income of the farm. All three commissioners voted "yes" on the motion.

Owen told Boyd and Gard he felt any problems concerning the County Home should be discussed and settled by the board.

The commissioners ordered two new cars for the sheriff's department from Lehman Ford Sales, Lisbon, on a low bid of $3,362.70 for both, counting trade-ins.

Salem Township trustees were given permission to buy a 1967 Ford dump truck costing $7,440. The trustees will trade in a 1960 International dump truck.

The Dayton Blank Book Co. received a contract to furnish a schedule of claims volume for Probate Court on a low bid of $102.50.

East Liverpool was allowed $11.50 for 23 stray dogs destroyed in September.

Commissioners authorized travel expenses for:

Edwin Hedrick, Juvenile Court probation officer, $200 to return two juveniles and an adult from Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Walter McCoy, Soldiers Relief Commission service officer, $34.50 to take a veteran to the Veterans Hospital in Cleveland; Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach and Assistant Harold McCall, $10 to attend a regional dog wardens' meeting Wednesday at Cadiz; four Welfare Department workers, $175 to attend a training conference Oct. 31-Nov. 2 at Columbus, and 11 retarded school employees, $300 to attend a conference Thursday through Saturday at Columbus.

Do you realize you have POWER like this to draw upon?

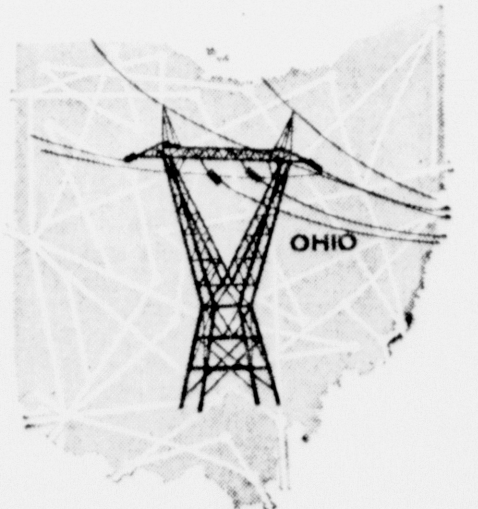

When you plug in an appliance you are "drawing" on the generators of your electric company. But there's more to the story... you are plugged into the enormous capacity of a network!

The lines of Ohio's eight electric light and power companies (with over 30 generating stations) are interconnected to form one of the strongest regional networks in the nation. This network is linked with electric systems in many other states. The exchange of electricity over these lines benefits you in many ways. Here are three:

1. It helps keep costs down, because fewer stand-by facilities are needed by your electric company. The price you pay for electricity remains low.
2. Because these companies are interconnected for instant exchange of power, you get even more dependable electric service.
3. By providing a more dependable electric service throughout the state, the investor-owned utilities help to create more jobs by attracting new industries, and make your community an even better place in which to live.

Next time you flip a light switch, think of the power you have at your fingertips—through interconnection!

School Levy Deserves Your Support

Can East Liverpool voters make an objective decision Nov. 8 concerning the proposed 3.5-mill school operating levy?

That question will be answered soon after the polls close.

Those who cast ballots should remember they are voting on a fund measure — not on the attitudes or performances of the board of education, the superintendent of schools, the football team or coaches, the teachers, the students, the janitors, the school buses or what have you.

The question is whether or not the schools can continue to provide the young people of the community a proper education if further cut-backs have to be made in curriculum transportation and extra-curricular activities.

Can parents afford not to give their sons and daughters as good a schooling as youngsters elsewhere and expect them to do as well later in life?

Can a community honestly be willing to accept less than average schools and teachers by failing to finance them properly?

Four cents a day is little enough to help pay for the enormous cost of education over which the students, the teachers, the board and the administration have little control.

The Review urges every voter to consider the economic plight of the East Liverpool District, to relate it to the need of our students and to support the levy.

Brighter Side

While the vandalism remains as dastardly as ever, the desecration of the Monroeville Cemetery now has a brighter side.

The cooperative spirit which saw the renovation of the burial site has helped greatly to wipe out the unpleasant picture of toppled tombstones.

The helping hand extended the trustees of the cemetery in their time of need demonstrated again the better side of tri-state area residents.

Fortunately, the "better side" prevails far more than the dastardly and senseless incidents such as those at Monroeville are the exception rather than the rule.

Good Luck, Mr. President

President Johnson is off and away on a 25,000-mile journey to promote peace and human progress.

His objectives are worthy.

He bears the best wishes of his countrymen.

But in the Pacific area where he will travel he will not have the best wishes of all his hosts.

Officials of the host countries will do everything necessary to make him feel welcome. They will turn out large crowds equipped with suitable banners and flags.

U.S. emissaries of good will are accustomed to this kind of full treatment when they go to Asia. Entirely missing are manifestations of bad will such as occur in Europe, South America and Africa.

It is not that bad will is non-existent, only that it is officially repressed in the presence of official guests.

President Johnson knows about this. It sometimes is forgotten that his first official duty as vice president under John F. Kennedy was a good will tour of Asia in 1961 and that today's involvement in Viet Nam resulted from that trip and promises subsequently carried out by the Kennedy administration.

Peace and human progress . . .

The objectives are blameless.

The question is how to bring peace and human progress closer to realization. The question for Asians is whether the United States is helping the people of Viet Nam to move toward peace and human progress.

This question plagues the Johnson administration and the American people almost as much as it plagues the victims of war in Viet Nam. Never has a war bred deeper and more numerous doubts about good intentions that are going wrong.

The President's arduous journey is an attempt to allay some of these doubts with a show of good faith before the Nov. 8 election.

Mr. Johnson, it is charged, is making a political move, which is an absurd accusation. Of course he is making a political move. Viet Nam is a political problem. Mr. Johnson is a politician.

What other kind of move could he be expected to make?

Court Moves Carefully

WASHINGTON

The Supreme Court is picking its fights very carefully this year.

The story of the first two "decision Mondays" of the new term is a decided disinclination to do battle on new frontiers. This passivity is especially striking in view of the Warren court's 13-year history of "activism."

There have been some notable exceptions. Among them: agreement to examine jury selections in the South and to decide whether city officials may inspect private property without search warrants.

Also, some important pleas have not been acted on yet. For instance, a Maryland appeal asking that the stamp of constitutionality be put on state aid for construction at church-related colleges.

But, in the main, the court's response to calls for review in significant and controversial areas of the legal battleground has been a terse "no."

THE NET effect is to leave lower court decisions standing. Also, and perhaps more important, because the justices did not give their reasons to leave lower courts somewhat in the dark.

Two cases in point: Monday's refusals to rule on chronic alcoholism and on whether the right to counsel applies in misdemeanor trials.

Two of the 11 U.S. Circuit Courts have explicitly held that chronic alcoholics may not be criminally punished for public drunkenness alone. In the other circuits the legal pattern

Something Going Around

Whatever it is that "goes around" started around early this year and has left a long trail of misery behind it.

The medical profession has pulled into its shell, as usual, and refused to come to grips with the menace that confronts laymen.

Our favorite doctors, when appealed to for help, send us to the drugstore for a vial of distilled frog dandruff and pulverized hair of a Gila monster. Gila monsters don't have hair, of course, and that's what makes the magical compound so expensive. We don't feel any better, but we do feel as if we'd better quit complaining at those prices.

While we are worrying about overhead, the same things happen to us that have been happening to generations of human beings who get in the path of whatever it is that "goes around."

We die a little.

We succumb.

Our throats get sore and our eyes burn.

Our legs ache and our arms get heavy.

Our energy lags and our morale sags.

The world seems like a combat zone with live bullets whizzing in all directions, and we cannot stand the thought of going forth into it.

So we lurk indoors and suffer, not silently but noisily, until one of two things happens.

Either the person trying to take care of us loses patience and challenges us to face life again, however unpleasant it may be.

Or if we are taking care of ourselves, we obey our animal instinct to find a better place to cash in than the familiar pad and go back to work, where being at death's door is a nag of life.

We do this in the illusion that we are not going to go through the door, but the illusion is shattered immediately.

We learn that misconstrued as evidence of potential recovery that really was evidence of potential extinction and actually are sicker than we were before.

By this time things have reached a stage where it is incumbent upon a zombie to think of the forthcoming expenses of departing this world. Therefore, it seems the part of wisdoms to sigh, "Farewell, cruel world!" on the job, in the chance of establishing an accident claim to help with final expenses.

And it drags like this until a new routine of living has been established on a plane of continuous misery, with that day counted as blessed on which no fancies occur and it is not necessary to resort to oxygen tanks.

Whatever "goes around" has left its calling card so many places it is nonnovelty — and October's only half over.

Maybe nature is telling us something. Maybe we should listen.

What So Proudly We Hail . . .

Oil Refinery Strike Looms

By Victor Riesel

DENVER— In its provincialism, the American northeast believes that the big time headlines are made only in Washington. 'Tis not true. There's a major union headquartered on California St. here, headed by a virtually unknown labor leader, which is preparing to make certain this land is not short on big news during the winter holiday season.

There might well be an oil refinery strike come New Year's Eve — less than 90 days hence. There will at the very least, be a new sense of crisis — supplied last year by the New York City transit strike.

An oil strike could cut as much as 70 per cent of the daily volume of oil refined throughout the nation. There has not been a general oil workers stoppage since 1952 — at the height of the Korean War. That tradition will be broken by the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union (OCAWI) unless it gets what it thinks it needs most now.

The national union, led by 50-year-old Al Gropiron, one of the "new breed," is determined to win an "anti-layoff plan" for some 60,000 of its members in the highly automated oil and petro-chemical refineries.

THE MEN WANT more cash, too. But that's negotiable. The bid for lifetime job permanency is not, insiders say.

There's nothing complex in the OCAWI demand. It wants to end all layoffs. Firing would be only for personal cause.

All men now on the job would stay on until they quit or retire between 62 and 64 years of age at a good pension. This is more than a guaranteed annual wage — this is a guaranteed annual wage over a guaranteed working lifetime.

In the first such move on the American labor scene, the union leaders have said.

"We propose that each contract (there are 400 expiring at midnight, Dec. 31) provide that all present regular and permanent employees be guaranteed continued employment at present or higher rate status until retirement on adequate pension."

THIS PROGRAM was adopted last June by the OCAWI National Oil Bargaining Policy Committee. It's made up of President Gropiron, who hails from Texas City, Texas; eight district directors covering the 39 states in which the union has 620 locals; Puerto Rico and Canada; and one rank and file member from each district.

This demand has been ratified by more than three-quarters of the local bargaining groups across the land. Thus it's binding on Gropiron and his colleagues to fight or strike. The leaders cannot switch objectives.

A long strike, with other unions cooperating in the coordinated bargaining strategy now being used by the AFL-CIO against General Electric and Westinghouse, could truly clear up many a traffic problem on big city streets. There just would not be enough ordinary automobile gas to fuel up the nation's 86 million vehicles. Commercial airlines could also be affected because of the impact on supplies of jet fuel.

During the Korean wartime strike, supplies of high octane gas ran out abroad and some long-distance flights were grounded. There is no way of telling what would happen today if the newer jet fuel were cut off at the refinery level.

On one matter there is agreement: The refining industry is practically America's most automated operation. So much so that fewer than 2,000 men have been hired in more than a decade. Refineries are being closed down on a broad front from Brooklyn to Casper, Wyo., as fully automated units elsewhere speed up automated production. Industry-wide employment on the refining front is down by 24,000 men.

THOUGH THE INDUSTRY now makes some 50,000 different products, the total employment has run down from 113,000 to 89,000 in the last few years. The fantastic number of products can be turned out by computerized mechanisms. Punch a card, press a button and the refining process switches from gasoline to some futuristic petro-chemical — and fewer men are needed, says a union spokesman.

"So we want an anti-layoff compact," he adds. "We'll fight this winter rather than switch from that objective. That's for sure."

So it appears that oil will be poured on President Johnson's troubled economic waters come New Year's Eve.

Party Line

By David Lawrence

It Takes Time For Red Action . .

It shouldn't have been a surprise to read the comments of Leonid I. Brezhnev, Communist party leader, that President Johnson is suffering from a "strange and persistent delusion" if he thinks Soviet - American relations can be improved while the United States continues its "aggression" in Viet Nam.

Unless one is familiar with the history of the tactics and strategems of Communists in what they say to the outside world, the remarks by Brezhnev seem to present a hopeless negative.

But anyone who thinks an American president can butter up a Soviet foreign minister in a White House conference and expect a change the next day doesn't realize how long it takes and what has to be done before a Communist position on an important question is modified.

The process is slow-moving and requires lots of consultations. In this instance, more information on the reaction of the Red Chinese and the North Vietnamese.

Certainly no Moscow leader would think of announcing a change in policy on Viet Nam until all cliques on the Communist side had been consulted to determine whether the main course should be altered.

UNQUESTIONABLY, the Soviet government would like to improve relations with the United States. Russians would be gratified if the American government let down the bars and started lending money and supplying to the eastern bloc of Communist countries in Europe the products they would like to buy.

It would be a mistake for the United States, therefore, to make any such concessions until the Communists demonstrated their willingness to become friends — and there are lots of ways by which they can do this.

The propaganda stunt in Moscow was not one of them. Indeed, Mr. Gomulka, the Polish Communist leader, while at the Kremlin the same day echoed Brezhnev's outburst against the American president. Then, 24 hours later, a formal communique on behalf of Russia and Poland was issued demanding that the United States unconditionally stop bombing.

The Soviets are afraid to show the slightest sign of yielding to the United States. They are worried by the hostility of Peking.

Until Russia can get a clearer idea of Red China's mood, there is little likelihood that Moscow will make any real change in its attitude. President Johnson was perhaps rightly advised to make the attempt but shouldn't be disappointed that it hasn't borne fruit.

The Soviet government must maintain, outwardly at least an adherence to the "party line," which is that the United States is the "aggressor." a

The question of whether peace negotiations should begin if the bombing is stopped by the United States is, according to communist tactics, not something for the Soviet government to decide.

IF HANOI should make up its mind to have a peace conference, the Soviets would still harp on the need for punishing the "aggressor" but they would await the outcome of the talks before publicly committing themselves to any change in their position.

What is the American policy likely to be in the interim?

The administration is well aware that Communists don't believe this country will continue the war.

Officials here, on the other hand, think the Communists in Asia — particularly in Hanoi — will not be able to continue their present adamant position against early peace negotiations if this country adopts a more resolute course.

So the next step is not necessarily less peace talk but intensification of the military effort for at least six months. The hope is that once it is proved that the United States will not curtail its combat operations until the other side does likewise, there will be an "agonizing reappraisal in Hanoi, Peking and Moscow."

Brezhnev has not stopped peace talks but only suspended them. Meanwhile, America will strive to convince the Communists that the lives lost and the billions spent to liberate South Viet Nam from a true aggressor must not have been in vain.

Battle Dress

Soldiers once went to war in peacock-bright uniforms, but they now do battle in drab green and khaki.

The practical concern for camouflage goes right down to the skin. Not long ago, United States military officials ordered hundreds of thousands of pairs of olive drab shorts and T-shirts for GIs in Viet Nam.

White underwear — standard issue since the end of World War II — made an inviting target for jungle snipers.

The Canadian government is considering a proposal to unify its armed forces, a change that would put all fighting men in the same garb. The innovation would be a historic first in the evolution of military uniforms.

Surprisingly, distinctive dress for men under arms is a somewhat recent development.

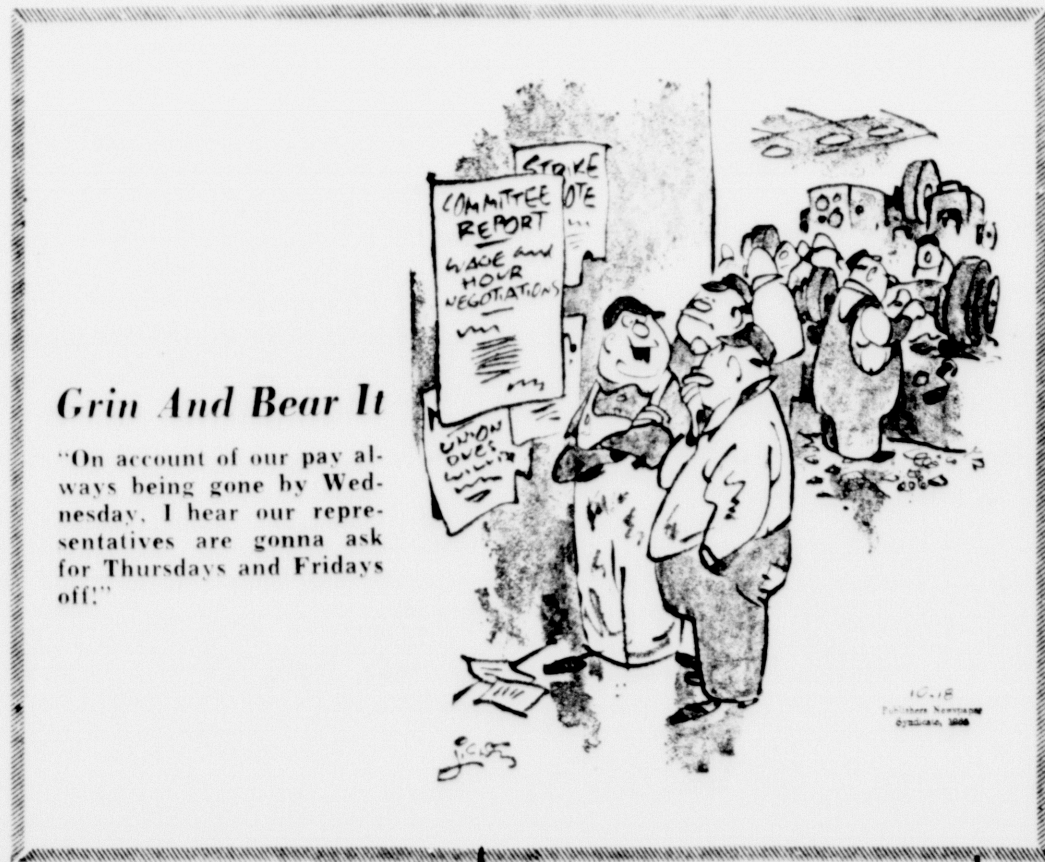

Though the heraldic trappings of medieval knights gave a degree of uniformity, the modern uniform did not come into being until the middle of the 17th century with the rise of national armies in Europe.

In Cleveland Area

Bolton-Calabrese Battle Watched

By TOM REES
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—In one of the hottest races for Congress in the Cleveland area's four districts, the issues of Viet Nam, civil rights and inflation are overshadowed by an issue of age.

The battle is between Rep. Frances P. Bolton, a Republican who has represented the 22nd District for 24 of her 81 years, and Democrat Anthony O. Calabrese Jr., a man 50 years Mrs. Bolton's junior and a three-term representative in the Ohio legislature.

Other incumbents are expected to have less trouble retaining their seats in the house.

In the 21st District, Rep. Charles A. Vanik, incumbent Democrat, faces Frederick Coleman, a hard-campaigning Negro Republican. Rep. Michael A. Feighan of the 20th District also has a Negro opponent, Clarence E. McLeod, former chairman of the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission. Racial overtones and civil rights issues have not entered these campaigns.

In the 23rd District, Republican Rep. William E. Minshall opposes Sheldon D. Clark, a Quaker opposed to the war in Viet Nam.

Calabrese, son of a Democratic state senator, seeks to break up the father-son legislature team by winning from Mrs. Bolton the seat she first held for the unexpired term of her husband, Chester, after his death in 1940.

Calabrese started his campaign by saying the "district has not been getting its proper share of federal help for the amount of tax dollars we sent to Washington." He soon changed his stand and started attacking Mrs. Bolton's age and voting record.

Despite Calabrese's hard campaigning, Mrs. Bolton—who scorns the term "congresswoman"—has not changed her campaign approach used the past 26 years, except to strengthen her contact with constituents.

Mrs. Bolton, who says experience is more important than going along with the administration, has support from the mayors of Euclid, Cleveland Heights, Shaker Heights, South Euclid, Lyndhurst, Highland Heights and Gates Mills.

THE TWO races involving Negroes are regarded more as party contests than as racial ones. Both incumbents have beaten Negro opponents before and neither district is predominantly Negro.

Redistricting has cut a block of Negro votes from Mrs. Bolton's district, while adding voters from close-in suburbs. Boundary changes have left about 25 per cent of the vote in Feighan's 20th District Negro, while racial balance in Vanik's 21st District is about 50-50. Reshaping Minshall's district did little to affect its Republican character.

Vanik at 53 is one of Cleveland's most popular congressmen. A native of Lilly, Ga., Coleman came to Cleveland with his family when he was four and was graduated from Cleveland public schools.

Coleman is a graduate of Western Reserve University and Cleveland Marshall Law School. He earned degrees at night while working as a mail carrier to support his wife and son. He carried mail 20 years, including his first year as an attorney.

In his campaign, the 48-year-old attorney has stressed the need for equal opportunity, elimination of poverty, pollution and cycles of boom and depression in the nation's economy, as well as a need for developing a firm basis for world peace.

Hearings Due Cited Drivers

Municipal Court hearings are set Thursday and Friday for two motorists cited on speeding charges Sunday by the State Highway Patrol.

Richard W. Call, 19, of 1148 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, will appear before Judge Samuel Chertoff Friday at 9 a. m. on a charge of speeding 90 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. The patrol said he was cited Sunday at 2 p. m.

James P. Dalton of Euclid is due for a hearing Thursday at 9 a. m. on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Sunday at 2:15 p. m. on the California Hollow Freeway, the patrol said. Dalton posted a $17.50 appearance bond.

Meanwhile, LeRoy W. Adams, 34, of Cleveland forfeited a $22.50 appearance bond today on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Monday at 11:30 a. m. on Route 30.

Judge Chertoff today continued indefinitely the sentencing of John Russell Shaw of 3rd Ave., LaCrosse, who pleaded "no contest" on Oct. 11 on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. The judge acted after he was advised by Bernard Fineman, counsel for Shaw, that the defendant entered the Veterans Administration Hospital in Oakland, Pittsburgh, on Sunday.

The court had continued the case for sentencing after Shaw reported he was seeking admission to a VA facility. The judge said Shaw will appear for sentence when he is released from the hospital. Shaw was cited by the patrol Oct. 1 after his car struck a utility pole in LaCrosse.

During the last 10 years the number of school-age musicians has increased more than 300 per cent, the American Music Conference reports.

Palestine Slates New Codification

EAST PALESTINE — A $1.150 contract for codification of city ordinances was authorized by Council at a meeting Monday night.

The Walter H. Drane Co. of Cleveland will undertake the updating of the ordinances last coded in the 1950's. The project will take several months.

Councilmen reported several larger stores in the city are currently on the industrial rate for electricity provided by the municipal power plant and could qualify for a lower commercial rate if they use more than 50 kva a month on one meter.

OF THE HOUSE
ELECTRICITY CAN HEAT

~~$10.00~~
FOR $9.00 MORE A MONTH?
~~$8.00~~
~~$7.50~~

THAT'S ABOUT THE SIZE OF IT.

It's just as the electric people say—you can heat electrically for about $9.00 a month or $10.00, or $7.50, or whatever—more than you'd pay for Gas.

Provided you're not heating anything much bigger than a doll house. And if you don't want a heated basement. And if you seal up everything like a vacuum bottle.

But if you live in a real house with real people, be realistic. Based on published utility rates, it costs up to three times as much to heat with electricity as with Gas. Your savings with Gas heat can run up to thousands of dollars over the life of your mortgage.

That's a lot of money to pay for the chore of fiddling with separate electric heat controls in each room. A lot to pay to trade filtered-clean, fresh air-circulating Gas heat for stale, warmed-over electrically heated air. Very expensive indeed to own a chilly, clammy basement.

Next time you're thinking about building, buying or renting a home, think realistically. Think about the fact that you'd have to pay up to three times as much to heat the same people-sized house with electricity. Then think of all the things you can do with the money you save with Gas.

That's about the size of it.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was touched by the letter from the teenagers who bought an orchid for their mother only to be told, "What a foolish thing to do. Where in the world am I going to wear an orchid?" To the supermarket?"

I had the same kind of mother and it nearly wrecked my life. When I was 6 I found a dime on the street. I went to the candy store and looked at all the goodies for about 20 minutes. Then I decided I would rather buy some buttons for my mother because the ones on her best dress didn't match. When I gave Mom the buttons, she screamed at me. The buttons were the wrong size and the wrong color and I was a dumb kid. That was the story of my childhood — rejection, belittling, getting yelled at. I was determined that my children never would suffer as I did. Last week when my 5-year-old presented me with a dried-up pansy, I pinned it on my dress and wore it to the market. Alice was so pleased she beamed all day.

I'm clipping that orchid letter as a reminder. Ann. Thank you so much for printing it. — A LOVED MOTHER

Dear Mother: Thank you for reminding us all, once again, how important it is for parents to be aware of a child's need for praise and approval. With love and acceptance children blossom. Without it they wither and die.

House Guest

Dear Ann: My husband and I always have had a better-than-average marriage. Our children are grown and we have grandchildren.

A relative lost her husband several months ago and Earl and I decided to ask her to live with us. We have plenty of room here and we always have enjoyed this person as a guest.

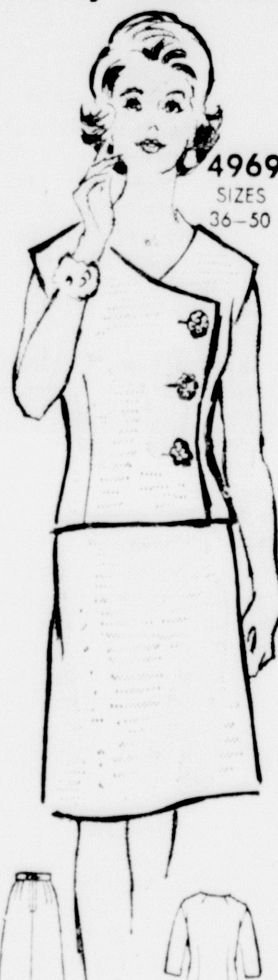

Well, ever since she moved in, I have felt like an outsider in my own home. It's nothing she does, it's Earl. He addresses all his remarks to her and the two of them talk right past me, as if I were a wall decoration.

At supper tonight he said, "There is one piece of meat left. Helen, you and I will split it." Whenever Earl and I go any place we invite Helen. She never refuses so now we are like triplets.

Please tell me what to do. This arrangement is keeping me up nights — TOO BIG HEARTED.

Dear Big Heart: Discuss the lady who came to dinner with your clergyman and ask him to talk to Earl. When he hears from an authority that his marriage is in jeopardy because of this gleesome threesome he will agree that Helen must find another place to live. I hope.

Water Plans Advanced By Midland Authority

The target date for advertising bids on an expansion project by the Midland Water Department was reaffirmed for the first week of December when the Midland Municipal Authority met Monday night.

A representative of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester said drawings for the $342,000 project have been completed and specifications will be drawn up immediately.

Fifty per cent of the four-point enlargement program calling for new reservoirs and enlargement of existing lines has been underwritten by a $171,000 federal economic development grant.

In a letter received from the Pennsylvania Health Department at Meadville, Larry S. Miller, Region 3 sanitary engineer, advised the Midland Authority that all water departments now must file an annual report each Nov. 1, stating that proper water pressures are supplied to all parts of communities to protect public health.

The report must state adequacies of water and whether restrictions have had to be placed on the supply because of lack of water or the incapacity of facilities.

Miller further stated there should be anticipation of the demands on the water system and development of additional resources should be explored now rather than waiting until an emergency might arise.

Don Craik, secretary, said repairs totaling $215 have been made to the authority's five-ton air conditioning system and $107.50 of this amount has been refunded by the Trane Co. of Pittsburgh, which guaranteed to pay one-half of repairs.

Rudy Presutti, chairman, presided.

of threats over this, commented Dr. Gerald C. Brauer, dean of the Divinity School at the University of Chicago.

Could his killer have been the same unknown person who fatally shot Loren E. Bollinger, 40, Ohio State University rocket scientist, last May? Circumstances were similar in some respects. Bollinger was slain in a small room of his downtown office, and police said they weren't discounting a possible connection.

Investigators, besides seeking to find anyone who might have photographed the dedication ceremony during which Dr. Spike addressed several hundred persons in the religious center's chapel-in-the-round.

Officers enlisted university students to help in a search for clues around the building.

Praise for Dr. Spike, who leaves a widow and two sons, Paul 19, and John, 15, came in an official joint statement by the Protestant Episcopal Church, the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., and the United Church of Christ.

"His was a highly commendable, creative ministry. He was a pioneer in making the church relevant to contemporary life and especially in putting the church into the forefront of the struggle for civil rights," the statement said.

Dr. Spike was a minister of the United Church of Christ and served for three years as director of the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches before moving to the University of Chicago.

He served as a minister at Judson Memorial church in New York City and at the same time as Protestant chaplain of Youth House, a detention home for adolescents in New York.

Dr. Spike grew up in the Rochester, N.Y., suburb of Brockport and was ordained in the Brockport Baptist church in 1946.

The last he was known to have been seen alive was 10:10 p.m. Sunday at the center, investigators said.

portation, except as required by state law. Free bus transportation will be provided only for those students in grade 1 through 8 who live two miles or more from school effective after the Christmas vacation.

8 — Double the materials fee and laboratory fees.

9 — Eliminate school use of school buildings after dismissal of classes in order to conserve on utility costs.

10 — Continued reduction of budget for substitute teachers, textbooks and educational supplies.

THE BOARD issued the following statement in conjunction with the resolution:

"The board feels strongly that the public school program in East Liverpool has been an excellent one and one that it would like very much to continue in all of its aspects.

"The board realizes, however, that the recent reductions in staff and other necessary curtailments have seriously crippled the educational program in the East Liverpool city schools. Insufficient operating funds as the result of the failure of two previous levy proposals have critically endangered the educational progress of our boys and girls.

"After a judicious review of the school budget and the present operating expenses, the board is cognizant of the fact that unless the 3.5-mill levy is voted affirmatively on Nov. 8, it again will be necessary to inflict additional curtailments on the educational program.

"The board feels, therefore, that it is necessary to have the above resolutions incorporated in the minutes of its official meeting and that the parents and citizens of the school district be made aware of the importance of the passage of the levy."

IN DISCUSSING the cutbacks Paul Blair pointed out to the board that every teacher in the system carries a full schedule of five teaching classes daily, or serves a period as supervisor of a study hall.

"The exceptions to this rule are certain administrative officers, such as the athletic director, who are given one period's time each day to complete their work in that capacity, or advisers for activities, who receive time for this work. In every case, we know where a teacher is and what he's doing throughout the day. They are all fully assigned. We can make no further cuts in teaching salaries without eliminating activities and thus free some of the teachers to handle extra classes each week."

In answer to a board question, Blair indicated that expansion of the bus minimum

Marine Corps Extends Duty Of Aiators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two many resignations and not enough trainees — the familiar pilot story thus far in the Viet Nam war — have forced the Marine Corps to extend the duty of regular officer aviators for one year.

The Defense Department announced the move Monday and said that some support officers — men in ordnance, motor transport and the engineers — also would be ordered to stay on the job.

Officials estimated that about 500 of the 21,500 officers now on active duty would be affected, but emphasized that none of the 6,500 Reserve officers was included in the order.

The mandatory extension is the second in two years for regular Marine officer pilots. They, along with all other regular officers, were held on the job in August 1965, but were permitted to resign last month.

Officials acknowledged that many pilots quickly had taken advantage of the chance to get out of service. One source said on June 4, 1964, she reached last month — most of them to join the airlines.

The Navy has similar problems. Two weeks ago it ordered an estimated total of 300 fliers and 700 other key officers to remain in their jobs for another year.

It was learned Monday that the Marine Corps will seek funds to train 200 additional pilots next year. This year it expects to produce 525 new aviators.

Despite the shortcomings, the services make clear that they are meeting all Viet Nam needs.

The first balloon ascension by a woman was by a 31-year-old woman on June 4, 1964. She reached 8,500 feet in a 45-minute flight.

Father Of Two Files Petition To Change Sex

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rich and C. Nelson, father of two, hopes to become a woman.

Nelson, 31, filed a court petition Monday asking permission to change his name to Roberta Nelson.

The petition said he hopes to undergo treatment and an operation which will transform his sex to female.

His attorney, John V. Snee, told Allegheny County Common Pleas Court Nelson's body has undergone changes which wash away his masculine characteristics.

Lynda Bird 3 Hours Late First Day On Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Career woman Lynda Bird Johnson got to work three hours late on her first day on the job, but the boss didn't raise a fuss.

Robert Sten, editor of McCall's magazine, explained to newsmen Monday that the President's elder daughter had stayed in Washington to see her parents off on their tour of the Far East.

Sten said Lynda, 22, will be a writer and researcher for McCall's — "a position about as low as you can start." She reportedly will receive about $10,000 a year.

British Envoy, Wife Begin Air Base Visit

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The British ambassador to the United States and his lady were due here late today to commence a three-day visit including a tour and briefings Wednesday at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base.

Sir Patrick Dean, the ambassador, planned to meet with civilian, military and industrial leaders here before flying on to Louisville, Ky., Thursday.

Will Hear Testimony Of Slaying Girl

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP) — A German court today acquitted Lt. Gerald M. Werner of the bathtub slaying of his German girlfriend, ruling that he was insane.

The acquittal had been expected after the prosecution last Friday recommended such action.

The prosecutor said that psychiatric testimony had convinced him that the 29-year-old lieutenant was not responsible for his actions and should be committed to a mental institution.

Insanity Ruled, Officer Acquitted Of Slaying Girl

CHICAGO (AP) — "This book has opened my eyes," a young man wrote in a report about the evils of Nazism. "I wish I could have written it."

The young man, Daniel Kalety, 21, and a companion, Gene Kuback, 19, were arrested in a street fight in Chicago while wearing jackets emblazoned with swastikas.

Earlier this month, Judge Saul Epton of Cook County Circuit Court recommended that the two Chinese Communist gunboats and damaged two others in a sea battle Saturday near the Nationalist island of Quemoy.

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — What can I do about stained suede shoes?

A. — First brush them to remove all dust particles, then hold the shoe over the spout of a steaming teakettle long enough to raise the nap, but not long enough to wet the shoe. A steam iron is fine for this, too. Finally, brush the nap with a soft brush, and let the shoes dry thoroughly before wearing them again.

Q. — How can I remove lipstick stains from white linens?

A. — By soaking in strong vinegar. If the stain is on colored material, use equal parts of vinegar and water.

Q. — How can I make varnish dry faster?

A. — Fill a shallow vessel with hot water and place the can of varnish in this while working. It will make the varnish flow easier, and it will also dry in a shorter time.

'Circuit Rider' Discussed As Wellsville DAR Meets

"The Circuit Rider in American History" was discussed by Mrs. Clarence Green during the meeting of Bethia Southwick Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Friday night at the home of Mrs. D. T. O'Hara of Main St., Wellsville.

Pilgrims came to America for religious freedom and how they founded churches and schools. She emphasized that religion from the very beginning of the settlement of the New World made the greatest contribution to the cultural life of these pioneer people "and accounted for the strength that made America great."

The speaker reviewed the life of Francis Asbury, the first bishop of the Methodist Church in the New World, and his vast work in the founding of the denomination. She discussed early denominational leaders, among them Thomas Hughes, who founded the Old Stone Academy at Darlington, Pa. where William Holmes McGuffey received his early education. Hughes was associated with the founding of Presbyterian Churches, the Longs Run, Calcutta and the First Church at Wellsville. He is buried in Springhill Cemetery, Wellsville.

Mrs. Isabel Hart, regent, opened the meeting according to the DAR ritual. Mrs. Ford S. Ball, chaplain, read Romans 12:14-21 for devotions and used "Peace" as her theme. She presented an article from "Today" magazine and a poem "On Bended Knee" (Della Crowder Miller) followed by prayer, including a memorial for Mrs. Isabel Dickey who died recently. Mrs. Robert W. Faulk led the pledge of allegiance and the American Creed was given in unison.

During business, Mrs. Hart urged members to buy Series E Savings Bonds. Mrs. Helen Wilson, national defense chairman, compared admissions to the United States from Dec. 1, 1965, March 1, 1966, under the old and new immigration acts. She reminded members of the observance of "United States Day" Oct. 23.

Mrs. Janet Moore reported on the district meeting of the Ohio Society of DAR Sept. 23 at the Holiday Inn, Akron. Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Green, vice regent, also attended. Mrs. Carolyn Vogel reported for the DAR schools' committee.

Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Faulk, associate hostess. Mrs. Hart presided at the tea table. Miss Kathryn McBane of Cleveland was a guest.

The next meeting will be Nov. 11 at the home of Mrs. Carl Haugh of Main St., with Mrs. Herman Feustel assisting hostess. A panel discussion on genealogical research will be given by local members of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Decision Deferred

Walk Light Need Aired By Council

The need for a pedestrian walk light at the complicated intersection of Broadway, St. Clair Ave. and Lincoln Ave. was discussed again by Council Monday night, but no decision was reached.

The question was raised at the Oct. 3 meeting, when Safety Service Director Robert E. Vodrey was asked to have the street department paint a crosswalk on Broadway to help protect pedestrians.

Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman of the street committee, raised the question of pedestrian hazards again last night when he asked Vodrey to explain what his investigation of the intersection disclosed.

COUNCILMAN Norman Bucher replied that the director inspected the intersection, but could not determine where a crosswalk should be painted. The investigation showed that most pedestrians cross Broadway along the Horn Switch railway tracks, where the traffic lights are not visible to them, he said.

Councilman James Lowe pointed out again that the traffic signals at the intersection formerly had "walk" signals in their amber lenses, giving pedestrians 10 seconds to cross. A red light was mounted on a bracket on a pole at the Horn Switch. Although the "walk" light was invisible to many pedestrians, the fact the red light was on indicated it was safe to walk, he said. He suggested that the traffic lights be altered to halt traffic in all directions to allow pedestrians to cross.

Vodrey said the walk light at 5th and Market Sts. allows pedestrians 23 seconds.

Councilman Robert W. Sample suggested the police department and the administration be asked to continue the investigation and recommend a solution.

If a "walk" light halted traffic on St. Clair, Lincoln and Broadway, motorists would be tempted to pull into the intersection from a private driveway that gives access to the rear of the A. & P. Market parking lot, Mrs. Donna R. Wilson said. That would create an additional hazard to pedestrians, she added.

IN OTHER business, A Stanley Kidder of Michigan Ave. appeared before Council on behalf of the 880 Club of the Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge, seeking action on a petition for blacktop surfacing of Flint Alley between Pennsylvania Ave. and Erie St. The stretch is about 200 feet long and runs alongside the IOOF Building.

Kidder commented the petition requesting the improvement was filed in April. He asked Council to proceed with legislation in hopes the project there is an unprotected site alongside a wall where a child might fall 20 to 25 feet. Vodrey said he plans to have a barricade erected today, as the spot already had been called to his attention.

Vodrey said "no parking" signs have not been erected in a new restricted area on Ravine St. because the signs have not been delivered by the manufacturer. Delivery has been promised by Nov. 14, he said.

Councilman Harold Maylone asked erection of about 75 feet of guard rail at Dresden Ave. and McKee St. to prevent cars from plunging over an embankment onto homes. He said three cars have gone over the hillside in the last nine years.

In one instance, a car plunged over the hillside and crashed into a house, pinning a woman against the sink in her kitchen, he said. A car went over the hillside two weeks ago, but did not hit any of the homes, he said. The request was referred to the street committee.

VODREY said he has received another letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking the city to move its dog pound out of a brick garage at the sewage treatment plant in West End. The first letter, received June 20, was referred to Council's planning committee, he said. The new letter also was referred to the committee, which has been seeking another site for the pound.

Acting at Murray's suggestion, Council directed that a letter be sent to W. M. Laughlin, street superintendent, who will retire Nov. 1 after nearly 35 years' service with the city. Murray commented that Laughlin should be commended for his "long and faithful service."

Council also extended its sympathy to the family of Raymond Goodman, former Council clerk, who died early Sunday. Sample called Mr. Goodman "one of the best clerks who ever served Council."

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample.

Trustees Given St. Clair Report On Road Grading

Grading of seven streets in St. Clair Township last week was reported at a meeting of the Township Trustees Monday night.

Graded were Lyle St., Ross St., Glenn St., 5th St., Warren Ave., Simmons St. and Irish Ridge Rd.

The purchase of two snow tires for the police cruiser was approved. No action was taken on a new police radio maintenance agreement which two representatives of the Motorola Corp. discussed with the trustees.

A request for slag for Maple Lane was authorized. Bills totaling $4,304 were paid.

Trustees discussed the proposed seven-tenths of a mill levy renewal for the police system on the ballot in the Nov. 8 election, and said the funds from the levy are vital for continued police protection under the present plan.

Bills Cleared On Bond Sale

Council gave unanimous approval Monday night to three ordinances providing for sale of bonds totaling $234,800 as part of the financing procedure for three major municipal improvements — establishment of off-street parking lots, purchase of a new street department storage building and installation of a sanitary sewer in Fisher Park.

The largest of the three issues, totaling $125,000, represents the city's investment in establishment of the so-called Ceramic Annex parking lot on E. 4th St. and the Laughlin Lot on E. 5th St. near Jackson St. The Ceramic Annex lot expenditure represents $85,000 of the issue, while the W. 5th St. lot represents $40,000.

The legislation also provides for sale of $100,000 in bonds in connection with the city's purchase in August of the former Valley Motor Transit Co. bus barn property and buildings for use by the street department. The cost of the structure was $95,000. The additional $5,000 represents the expense of preparing it for occupancy.

The third issue of $9,800 represents funds due from property-owners for special assessments for a sanitary sewer job in Fisher Park, which was completed in 1962 or 1963. About half of the sum due in special assessments already has been paid. Solicitor Joseph Cooper advised Council.

The issuance of bonds is standard municipal procedure in the case of major projects or purchases. The expenditure is financed initially by borrowing money on short-term notes, usually from a local bank. Then bonds are sold, providing money with which to retire the notes. Municipal bonds spread the repayment over a longer period of time and at a lower interest rate than the notes.

The $100,000 issue will be sold in bonds of $1,000 denomination. They will be retired over a 10-year period. The $125,000 issue also will be sold in $1,000 denominations. They will be retired over 25 years, but are callable at the city's option any time after Dec. 1, 1987, the legislation provides.

Cove Inn License Revoked By State

The license of the Cove Inn, located on West Virginia Route 2 near the "Strip" night club area in Hancock County, has been revoked, it was announced by West Virginia Beer Commissioner Grover T. Davis in Charleston Monday.

The action was taken for selling beer after hours and for possession of liquor, the commissioner said.

On Aug. 28, a "citizens' raid" on the establishment was conducted by Squire Dick Wright of Route 30, near Chester, and four special constables.

Some 300 to 400 teen-agers were estimated to be present in the club at that time.

Q. — How can I renovate badly faded corduroy?
A. — You can dye it tan at little cost with an ounce of permanganate of potash. Dissolve this in a quart of water, add the solution to a vessel of water large enough to hold the corduroy garment. Before dipping that garment, test the solution with a piece of paper to determine the right shade. The garment should be dipped wrongside-out, and allowed to remain in the solution only a few seconds at a time until the desired shade is reached. Wring the article out thoroughly, rinse in clear water, and hang in a shady place to dry.

At Beaver Local Public School

Banquet For Bus Drivers Will Be Held On Nov. 15

LISBON — The annual dinner for school bus drivers in Columbiana County will be held Nov. 15 at 6:30 p. m. at Beaver Local Public School.

James L. McBride, superintendent of county schools, announced the date and program Monday night during the county Board of Education meeting in the Courthouse.

THE SPEAKER will be W.P. Headley, assistant manager of safety for Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., Columbus. The Columbiana County Automobile Club (AAA) will furnish the dinner.

The board last night adopted a $78,798 appropriation for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Prior action was impossible because state approval of the county budget was not given until last month.

A summary of the appropriation shows $47,404 paid by the state, $27,388 charged to the four local districts and a July 1 balance of $4,006.

United School will be host to a combined meeting of the four local boards and the county board at 8 p.m. Monday. County office staff members will discuss their work and the idea of cooperative purchasing of school supplies will be discussed.

McBride reported on a workshop of Ohio county superintendents Sept. 29-30 at Columbus and the national county and intermediate unit superintendents' convention last week at Atlanta, Ga.

REPORTING on the Columbus meeting, he said the following figures impressed him: of 242 industrial arts graduates in Ohio this year, only 121 entered the teaching profession; Ohio has 2,300 vocational units this year, 600 more than last year; 3,000 Ohio teachers are employed under Title I; of 1,300 school buses on order, 619 are for parochial schools; new buses are being delivered at the rate of 52 per week.

McBride read a letter from the Rev. Clarence E. Mansfield of the First Christian Church at Columbiana commending the county board for its resolution recommending to the local boards use of the Bible in the classrooms. McBride said he has received the American Bible Society's list of Bible stories suggested for classroom use and will distribute them to the county schools.

Donald Rupert of New Waterford will represent the county board at the Ohio School Boards Association convention Nov. 9-11 at Columbus.

Training for 14 bus drivers who have not had the 15-hour course required by the county board began last night at Beaver Local School. Al Ward, Beaver Local transportation director, is instructor.

Plans Advanced For Democratic Rally On Oct. 29

COLUMBIANA — Congressman-at-large Robert Sweeney of Cleveland, a candidate for attorney general, and William Coleman, former state Democratic chairman who is running for lieutenant governor, will attend Columbiana County's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Saturday night, Oct. 29, at South Side School here.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, said tickets are on sale in all communities. The sale will be limited to 500 — the capacity of the auditorium.

Gosney said Democratic workers Monday night began their get-out-the vote drive with a house-to-house canvass.

Restaurant Roof Damaged In Fire

An accumulation of grease caught fire in ventilating duct work leading from the kitchen of the restaurant at Golden Star Dairyland early Monday afternoon, damaging the roof and wooden framing, city firemen reported.

Downtown and Pleasant Heights pumper trucks and the emergency car responded to the alarm at 12:50, returning to their stations 27 minutes later. Firemen said damage was confined to the vent and the roof.

Firemen were called to the Johnson Apartments at 314 Market St. Monday at 11:55 p. m. when meat which was cooking on the stove in the apartment of Roy Adkins caught fire and filled the rooms with smoke. Adkins told firemen he fell asleep. There was no damage.

Laundry Owners Complain

Tight Police Check Asked To Curb Juvenile Actions

Council called Monday night for a tighter police check on alleged traffic hazards, vandalism and noise nuisances blamed on juveniles who congregate at a drive-in hamburger stand on E. 3rd St. near the Chester Bridge.

The request for additional controls in the area was made by Robert B. Patterson, a partner in the firm of Patterson-Wetzel Cleaners, which operates a coin laundry and dry cleaning establishment at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. His complaints were verified by several members of Council, who said they had made inspections in the area and already issued individual appeals for stricter police controls in the area.

"We're not here to condemn the police department — the officers have been trying to control this situation," Patterson said at the outset.

Youngsters driving cars "peel rubber" when leaving the hamburger stand — accelerating their motors to the point that strips of rubber "peel" onto the pavement, he said.

"They park in our lot, go into our laundry, break bottles in our dryers and drive our customers out," he told Council.

"They actually threw empty bottles into the washing machines and turned them on, scattering breaking glass in the machines," Councilman Robert Sample explained. "I made an inspection there today with the chief of police."

"The new motel across the street (Heritage House) can't rent its rooms fronting on E. 3rd St. because of the noise at night," Sample continued. "The owner made a complaint to the police and the juveniles broke the antenna off his car and smashed a big hole in one of the fenders."

Councilman Floyd Murray said the trouble emanates from Buddy's Burgers at E. 3rd and College Sts.

"It's especially bad on nights after football games, but more enforcement is needed every night," he said. "Some arrests already have been made, but the police have promised more."

Passes Bills Right And Left

Congress Sails Toward Adjournment This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Passing big and little bills right and left with a minimum of debate, Congress was sailing today before a fair wind for final adjournment later this week.

Monday it sent to President Johnson bills setting up a four-year, $3.7-billion program to clean up public waters; and providing $979.57 million for military construction projects in the United States and overseas.

Major bills up for action today would authorize continuation of the war on poverty and finance programs to aid elementary, secondary and higher education and the poverty war. The poverty war authorization is on the Senate program, but at the current rate of speed it may get through the House before the end of the day.

It is a compromise of separate antipoverty authorization measures passed earlier. There is no dispute over the spending ceiling, $1.75 billion, the major rumble being over how many high-salaried employees can be put on the payroll of the Office of Economic Opportunity and the programs it administers.

The pending appropriation bill which the House has before it includes only $1.56 billion for the antipoverty program. It also would provide $2.17 billion for various forms of aid to education.

It is the 15th and final appropriation bill of the session, and once it clears both branches the rush for adjournment could turn into a stampede. Only three of the other 14 money measures have not been sent to the President, but they are in shape for quick approval.

The House sent to the Senate Monday for expected prompt passage bills calling for a two-year health planning program, cut-rate lunches for needy children during the summer months and financial help for areas hit by natural disasters. The latter includes a provision for grants up to $10,000 to individual farmers to help replace cattle and crops lost or damaged by storms or floods.

Also sent to the Senate was a compromise bill which would regulate to some extent the labeling and packaging of consumer goods.

Still in conference committees awaiting compromises are the demonstration cities and Food for Peace measures.

Three measures could toss some obstacles in the path of adjournment, but aren't likely to.

Hancock Mishap Hurts Cyclist; Car Leaves Road

Two separate accidents involving a new motorcycle and a 1965 auto were investigated overnight by the Hancock County sheriff's department.

Shortly after midnight, David Earl Gamble, 18, of 201 Grant St., Newell, lost control of the motorcycle on Scotts Lane, near Tomlinson Run Park. He fell from the cycle, which went over an embankment and was damaged extensively.

Gamble was taken to Weirton General Hospital by a passing motorist for treatment of bruises and abrasions.

In the other mishap, Richard Alex Miles, 36, of Substation Rd., East Liverpool RD. 2, lost control of his westbound auto near the hilltop intersection of Route 30 and West Virginia Route 2 at 4:17 a.m., according to deputies.

The car struck an embankment and received damage estimated at $900. Miles, who reported that a front tire blew out, was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control. He was not injured.

James Cregar, 10th District vice commander, reported on Post 431 in Newcomerstown. Cregar said the next district meeting will be Jan. 8 at Canton Post 44. Cregar reported district membership at 4,295.

Attending last night's meeting were Legionnaires and 18 auxiliaries. Lunch was served by the kitchen committee.

A special meeting of the Executive Committee was set for Monday at 7 p.m. prior to the regular session. The Veterans Day banquet will be held at the post home Nov. 5.

Bill Jackson and his Orchestra will play at the Saturday night dance and also following the banquet.

Good Compliance Seen In Sunday Sales Laws

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reported merchants generally cooperated with his appeal for compliance with the Sunday closing law.

East Liverpool merchants last week asked him to enforce the law after big stores in St. Clair Plaza outside the city were open on Sundays.

Last year, Plaza and East Liverpool storekeepers had each other arrested for Sunday sales. Now the East Liverpool merchants have asked the sheriff to act.

He said downtown drugstores were open Sunday but legally the law after big stores in St. Clair Plaza outside the city were open on Sundays.

"Easy-Fixin' Sausage Adds To Week-End Fun," Says Bob Evans

"Come and get it," farmer Bob Evans seems to be saying as he makes a Farm Boy Sausage Sandwich. Or if you prefer, there's spaghetti and sausage meat balls or smoked links.

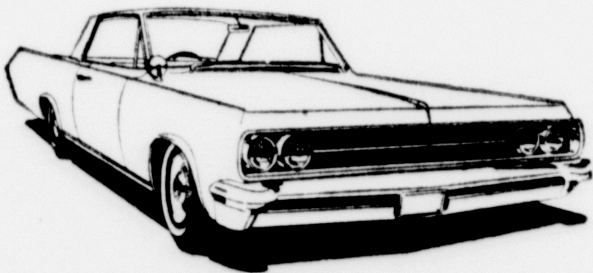

One reason for the increased eating of Bob Evans Farms Sausage these crisp days is that fall is fun time, Bob believes.

"Sausage is such easy fixin' and so time saving," says the well-known Ohio farmer. "Folks want to get away to the football game; to the Sunday paper or TV set; off to the golf course, or take a drive through the colorful countryside."

"Whether it's for hearty breakfasts, meaty sandwiches, cook outs or easy-to-prepare main meals, sausage stretches the food dollar and provides hearty eating any time."

"During fall months we usually see the production of Bob Evans Farms Sausage increase nearly every day at our three farm locations in Ohio and Michigan. Then it's rushed by refrigerated trucks right to the stores."

Help For Educational TV

A four-pronged plan to help educational television, offered by a hard-boiled advertising executive last week, is latest evidence of avowed general support for noncommercial TV.

The proposal would have commercial networks stage fund-raising telethons by Jerry Lewis and others, lend-lease to ETV key production people (documentarians John Secondari, Don Hyatt and Martin Carr were mentioned), promote important ETV programs and have the Advertising Council help improve ETV's image.

THE PLAN was outlined by Charles R. Standen, president of Tatham-Laird & Kudner, in a speech at the Headliners Lunch of the International Radio and Television Society.

It was Standen's view that many public affairs and culture programs should be relegated to educational television.

"In prime evening time, an 8-million-home audience appears to be a decision point for agencies and their clients," he said.

"Networks find it hard to attract sponsorship when either an estimate or the track record suggests an audience of 8 million homes or less. At the 5-million-home level, the networks rarely are able to make a sale."

The solution, Standen said, is educational television: "ETV was designed and created to get at this sophisticated minority. That's why ETV was born."

LIKE CBS with its yet-to-be-scheduled "CBS Playhouse" drama specials, NBC is promoting heavily for image and cliff-hanger purposes "Flesh and Blood," the William Hanley play it paid $112,500 for telecast prior to Broadway production.

Announcements are carefully spaced out for maximum effect, and an aura of great expectations surround them.

Most recent news is the hiring of John Frankenheimer for the job of piloting the play through two air hours. The young director made his name in television drama before pushing on to movies. His latest big-screen credits are "Seconds" and the unreleased "Grand Prix."

"FLESH AND BLOOD" still is unscheduled. Taping is planned for next January or February.

What if the work is disappointing as a play? After all, Hanley's previous Broadway effort, "Slow Dance on the Killing Ground," got mixed notices from New York theater critics.

The feeling in the industry is that critics and audience are less demanding in TV than on Broadway, and that considering the usual TV fare everyone will be grateful for an obviously expensive production, whether the play is good or not.

Kennedy's Body Will Be Moved To New Grave Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — The body of President John F. Kennedy will be moved about 40 feet to a new grave site some night within five weeks, after darkness has settled on the hills of Arlington National Cemetery.

Army officials say the reburial will take place by Nov. 22, the third anniversary of the young president's assassination.

The date will not be made public in advance. The nighttime reburial, after the cemetery has closed, will insure privacy.

Kennedy's body and those of his two children who died in infancy, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy and "baby girl Kennedy," will be moved to a permanent grave site now nearing completion.

The prime consideration in relocating the late president's grave was to place it in a direct axis line with the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument across the Potomac River in the nation's capital.

Work on the $2-million grave site began about a year ago in an area adjacent to the three grass-covered graves which are surrounded by a low, white picket fence.

Millions have visited Kennedy's temporary grave, where an eternal flame has flickered day and night since his burial.

The flame will be included in the permanent grave site, a marble and granite memorial with a circular walkway 210 feet in diameter.

When reporting the theft a week ago McKeever said he would file an inventory of the stolen items.

He said he parked his auto on the Horn Switch property off Dresden Ave. and entered a pizza shop. The car contained clothing which had just been washed at a coin laundry, but its disappearance was not discovered until he arrived home, he said.

Move Brings On Debate

Weed Control Ordinance
Held Up For More Study

For the third consecutive meeting, Council deferred scheduled final action on a weed control ordinance for East Liverpool.

After a brief debate, a motion to table the legislation "for further study" was approved, 4-3. The ordinance also was deferred at the Sept. 19 and Oct. 3 sessions. It squeezed through first reading Aug. 15 and was given second reading Sept. 6. One more reading is required before it can become law. At least four affirmative votes are required.

The motion to table was supported last night by Councilmen Norman Bucher, who proposed it, Harold Maylone, Floyd Murray and Robert W. Sample.

"No" votes were cast by Councilmen Frank Duffy, James Lowe and Donna Richards Wilson.

Duffy had moved for third reading, supported by Lowe, touching off a discussion. Then Bucher moved to table the legislation. Ernest Lowe, president, ruled that Bucher's motion to table took precedence over Duffy's motion for third reading.

The ordinance provides that weeds shall not be permitted to exceed a height of 18 inches. It also stipulates that property owners must cut "noxious" weeds or the city will have the work done and assess the charges on the real estate tax duplicate.

Sample, as chairman of the finance committee, declared that he favors weed control, but said he could not conscientiously vote for the measure, knowing that it would cost the city thousands of dollars a year to cut weeds on its own property. "I've endorsed this anti-weed ordinance," Bucher said. "It's not new to this Council — it was part of the mayor's platform. But I understand now that the mayor is not in favor of it, although he has not said so publicly. I wish he were present to tell us his position."

Safety Service Director Robert Vodrey interjected that Mayor George Willshaw was ill in bed at home with a cold and could not attend the session.

"Because of the recommendation made by Mr. Sample as chairman of the finance committee, I favor tabling this ordinance until the next meeting," Bucher continued. "This legislation needs clarifying. It refers to 'noxious' weeds and I think that term should be clarified and defined."

"If you don't pass this ordinance, you are telling the people to let the weeds grow as high as they want and to allow debris to accumulate in the streets," Duffy commented.

Then the motion to table was put to vote, ending in the 4-3 split.

The discussion was terminated until near the close of the meeting, when James Lowe commented that he was "sorry that the weed ordinance was not passed."

"I'm concerned about the city's finances, too, but I feel this would be a step forward for the city," he said.

Duffy reiterated his comment that the inaction would encourage citizens to allow weeds to grow and debris to accumulate.

"Why doesn't the city buy the equipment to cut the weeds?" he said.

Gunpowder Blast
Kills Two, Levels
Three Buildings

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Two men were killed Monday when 7,000 pounds of gunpowder exploded inside a truck trailer, sending flaming debris over a square block area and destroying three buildings.

The dead were Murle Olive, 53, owner of Murle's Bait Shop located two blocks downtown Alton, and Harry Braga, about 40, of De Soto, Kan., an employee of Pilshaw Ammunition Co. of Kansas City.

The shop, which sells ammunition to hunters, and two adjacent homes in the area were severely damaged.

The driver of the truck, Leonard Summers, 34, of Kansas City, suffered minor burns. Officers said the blast occurred as Summers and the two victims were unloading part of the explosive cargo. Sixty firemen battled the resulting blaze for nearly an hour.

In Ohio's First District

Taft-Gilligan Race Stirs Attention

By HAROLD B. HARRISON

CINCINNATI (AP) — Southwestern Ohio is in the somewhat unusual position this fall of having two congressional campaigns which are stirring up a considerable storm and one which has been almost forgotten.

The two active races are in the First District, which covers the eastern half of Hamilton County (Cincinnati), and the new 24th District, which covers Butler, Warren, Preble and part of Montgomery counties.

The nearly forgotten one is the Second District which covers the western half of Hamilton County.

The First District race has attracted national attention because it pits Republican Robert Taft Jr., son of the late U.S. senator, against incumbent Democrat John J. Gilligan.

The spotlight was turned on Gilligan two years ago when he unseated former Cincinnati mayor and then incumbent congressman Carl Rich, who never before had lost an election. At the same time, Taft was caught in the Johnson landslide and lost the senatorial race to Sen. Stephen Young by a narrow margin.

Taft is a former member of the Ohio legislature and, of course, has a magic Republican name.

Both Taft and Gilligan are in the younger elements of their parties. Both are vigorous campaigners and they have been a bit bitter at each other at times.

Taft—more outgoing than his father—has specialized on a handshaking campaign in which he puts in 13 hours a day or more, making speeches and greeting people. He put on a similar campaign in his bid for the Senate. Gilligan does much the same thing but in the early stages he was handicapped a bit by the need to attend to congressional duties in Washington.

Both candidates started talking early about Viet Nam. Both made trips to that war-torn country—Gilligan as a member of a congressional committee and Taft as a free-lancer with a commitment to do an article for a national magazine (Readers Digest).

That issue tapered off because both seemed to have about the same ideas. Since then the major issues have been federal spending and the high cost of living.

In a series of radio debates Taft declared the nation is spending its money "foolishly" and that government controls are turning the country socialist. Gilligan countered with claims this is the richest nation in the world and that it should use its wealth to help all Americans enjoy a decent standard of living.

Taft calls the present administration "the great spendthrift" and Gilligan sticks to the "great society" idea.

At the moment, political experts call the Taft-Gilligan race a toss-up with perhaps a slight edge to Taft.

In the Second District incumbent Republican Donald Clancy is being opposed by Thomas E. Anderson, a little known small businessman. Their campaigns, which have attracted little attention, have echoed the basic differences in the two parties.

Clancy has a conservative voting record in Congress and admits it.

He has been criticized by Anderson for voting against foreign aid and his reply has been:

"Of course I've voted against foreign aid. I don't believe in giving away our money and goods to countries that turn around and spit in your eye and are downright hostile."

Anderson also accuses Clancy of voting in Congress "strictly on party lines" and says the pint-sized Clancy "has offered no constructive legislation."

Clancy may have been hurt a bit in congressional re-districting by transfer of a segment of his district to the First District but political pundits pick him as a sure winner. He won two years ago by 42,000 votes.

The 24th District was created under the congressional re-districting and it has two candidates competing for public office for the first time.

It has Republican Donald E. Lukens of Middletown with an ultra-conservative background and Democrat James H. Pelley of Oxford who became a member of the Miami University faculty in 1951.

Political experts say leaders of both parties may be becoming a bit disillusioned with their respective candidates.

Lukens won the nomination without party backing. He is 35 and has been unemployed since November 1965. He is a former president of the national Young Republicans organization. He has admitted he voted for John F. Kennedy for president in 1960 and also was an organizer of the Ohio State University Young Democrats Club during his college days.

In the 1964 pre-convention campaign he was active in the Barry Goldwater faction.

In the current campaign, however, some of his literature shows him posed with former vice president Richard Nixon, who made a trip to Middletown last month to boost Lukens and other GOP candidates.

Pelley, 52, is a native of Montana and once was superintendent of schools at Lincoln, Neb. He also formerly was a field specialist for the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity. He resigned, however, criticizing its "miserable administration" but not its programs.

In his campaign he has taken dead aim on Lukens individually. Referring once to a Lukens-Sponsored summer camp for teen-agers, Pelley urged that his opponent "keep his political hands off our young people."

The campaigns have been waged largely on personalities and domestic issues.

Lukens, a Hicksite quaker, says his religion does not permit racial discrimination and that he supports civil rights but opposes civil disobedience.

To control inflation, Lukens says, "we must trim the federal budget and live within it. I am against any raise in taxes." Pelley has defended various federal aid programs, declaring "none are give-aways" and that they require local initiative and responsibility.

He has opposed a proposal for suspension of investment tax credits for industry claiming "progressive industries already committed to expansion would be penalized by having to borrow money to meet their commitments."

Several large corporations, like Armco Steel Corp. and Champion Papers, Inc., are based in the Hamilton-Middletown area.

Lukens has said he "generally" is in agreement with the Johnson administration's conduct of the war but does not feel he is competent to make decisions in the matter.

At the start of campaign, political experts figured Lukens would win hands down but now there is some question.

$6,670 Fund Gets Sanction

The legislation provides $2,024 for the general fund, $665 for the health fund, $2,075 for the safety fund and $2,050 for the service fund.

The service fund allocations include $450 for car expenses of the assistant city engineer at $75 monthly and $1,300 for janitors' salaries.

Halloween Event Set By Palestine Chamber

EAST PALESTINE — Plans for the annual Halloween fête Oct. 31 were made at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Area bands have been invited to the parade, which will begin at 7, with prizes to be awarded for the best costumes. The special events committee is in charge.

Extension Set For Order In Razing House

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted another extension — until Oct. 28 — for Eric Young of 604 College St., who has been under a deputy state fire marshal's order since last June to tear down a dilapidated frame house at E. 6th St. and Thompson Ave.

The judge granted the extension after lecturing Young for his failure to appear in court Monday. Young had been granted a continuance in his case Oct. 7 and had been slated to return yesterday, but did not appear.

Young told the judge he did not appear "because of a misunderstanding on my part."

"I looked at this building myself and it's an eyesore," the judge told Young. "Why don't you tear it down?"

Young replied he hired one man to tear down the structure, but he suffered a broken foot and quit. A second man hired for the job died, he said.

"I want that building down and I want it down quick," the judge told the defendant. "I have tried to be reasonable with you. I will give you one more chance."

The judge asked when the razing would be complete. Young replied he could not set a "specific date."

"I'll give you a date," the judge said. "You have been fooling around since June."

Then he ordered the building razed by Oct. 28 and told Young to return to court on that date. If the building has not been razed by that time, every additional day it stands will constitute a separate violation of the law, the judge warned.

'Guilty' Ruled In Check Case

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of Common Pleas Court at Lisbon returned a verdict of guilty Monday noon against Frank William Quinlan, 33, of Pittsburgh, charged with forgery.

Quinlan waived a jury trial and asked for trial by the court. He did not take the stand in his own defense.

Frank Arcuri, manager of the Thorofare market here, testified the defendant passed a worthless $214.37 check last March 7.

The check was made out to William R. Keeler and was endorsed the same way. Arcuri said Quinlan offered as identification a driver's license in the name of William R. Keeler, 505 Maryland Ave., East Liverpool.

When the check was returned marked insufficient funds, Arcuri and East Liverpool police discovered the address on the license was fictitious and the license itself was one of several stolen in Youngstown.

Pennsylvania state police late last March notified East Liverpool police they had apprehended Quinlan, who was also known as William R. Keeler. Arcuri identified him at the Washington County jail.

Judge Buzzard fixed bond at $5,000 yesterday and continued the case for sentencing. Quinlan is in the County Jail.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: I'm so excited I can hardly wait to tell you.

This is not only for those who are on tight budgets but also for those who just love spaghetti with meat balls or meat sauce.

The main complaint I have gotten from husbands is, "My wife serves spaghetti, and it's so colorless and unappetizing." ing."

Well, my husband got to where he said the same thing. When I was boiling spaghetti last night, after putting salt and a little oil in the water, it dawned on me, "Why can't this look like egg noodles—so rich looking and yellow?"

So I poured in 10 drops of yellow coloring. After all, I couldn't lose anything but a box of spaghetti if he didn't like it.

I couldn't believe that the coloring would actually soak into the spaghetti itself, and make it the rich, beautiful color of our homemade egg noodles.

It was the most luscious, egg-colored spaghetti you have ever seen in your life. It looked like it was made from pure butter and eggs.

My husband commented that it looked like it had cheese in it.

So, gals, next time you cook some spaghetti, please put a little bit of yellow food coloring in it. You'll be surprised how appetizing it looks—the psychological effect is most amazing!

HELOISE: This also works with egg noodles and that plain ole white macaroni we buy.

Be sure to pick up a little bottle of yellow food coloring. It's one of the least expensive things you can purchase for your household today and it isn't loaded with calories.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to add a hint regarding using a little girl's dress as a clothespin bag.

One also can use a little dress (sew hem closed around the bottom and insert a hange in the same manner as for the clothespin bag) as a laundry bag for hose, lingerie, etc.

Mine looks darling hanging in the closet.

MRS. J.A.B.

DEAR HELOISE: Those old plastic laundry baskets make wonderful dog or cat beds.

Just cut one down and put an old pillow in it.

Cover the pillow with an old towel, make like a pillow case, and when it is soiled, just pop it into the washer or replace it.

MRS. M. R. KAYLOR

DEAR HELOISE: My husband suggests that in the case of any glass shelf, etc., on which might cut a person, that youing, smooth the edges with emery cloth. You can also round glass edges this way.

He has done this for me, and it works fine.

No taping the edges to bother with, either.

MRS. E. R. WINTERS

An excellent safety idea, Mr. Winters.

The edges of glass shelves in refrigerators and bathroom cabinets should all be checked and smoothed or rounded, if need be.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: The nightgown of a peignoir set usually wears out first—leaving a peignoir with no gown to match.

Put buttons and buttonholes down the front opening of the peignoir, and it makes a nice nightgown—instead of being useless.

KATHRYN WILSON.

DEAR HELOISE: May I suggest using vegetable oil to oil a can opener?

The oil retains no odor; therefore, no rinsing is required.

MRS. E. CARDWELL.

DEAR HELOISE: Cleaning our white metal awnings was really a job until I started using nylon net wrapped around my sponge.

The net is abrasive enough to loosen the dirt but not scratch the awning, and the sponge holds the cleaning liquid and wipes up the dirt.

Calcutta Firemen Hear Drill Report

Donald Dunn, assistant chief of Calcutta Volunteer Fire Department, reported on the inspection of Calcutta School in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, when the firemen met Monday night in the fire hall.

Dunn said a drill was conducted at the school and the building was evacuated in 1½ minutes.

The assistant chief reported that the president, Norman Neal and his wife, Mabel, are spending a two-week vacation in Florida. Chief Laverne Seckman is on a hunting trip in Wyoming.

An announcement was made that the Tri-State Firemen's Association will meet Oct. 27 at the Glenmoor fire station at 8 p.m. Business will include the nomination of next year's officers for election Nov. 22.

Cache Of Half Dollars Used In Placing Bond

Police and Municipal Court officials know now where some of the vanishing half dollars went.

Paul Villaneve of 313 Broadway used 22 of the 50-cent pieces in posting a $57.50 appearance bond after he was served with a warrant Monday charging him with assault and battery Saturday on Lenora Allman, also of 313 Broadway. In posting the bond, he requested specifically he reserved the right to reclaim the coins — not just any $11 repayment. The balance of the bond was in currency.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff heard testimony in the assault case this morning and then continued it until Nov. 17.

12 Firemen Feared Dead In N.Y. Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Three aging buildings in an historic corner of downtown Manhattan billowed with flame and choking fumes today in a blaze that may have brought death to 12 firemen — the greatest single loss of life in the department's 101 years of operation.

Two firefighters were found dead, seven were injured and ten were believed missing in the basement of a three story brick building on Broadway, just south of Madison Square and a short distance from the Flatiron scraper.

A search for the victims was begun by rescue teams with oxygen masks.

Six hours after the first alarm at 9:55 p.m. Monday, tongues of flame still poked from windows and black smoke spread through the streets.

The fire broke out in the basement of 7 E. 22nd St., a four-story building, then spread west to 904 Broadway and north to 8 E. 23rd St.

The trapped firemen were caught either by a backdraft or gas explosion. Fire Commissioner Robert O. Lowery said. The impact apparently broke down a wall, sending the men into the heart of the inferno.

The cause of the blaze was not immediately known. The buildings were used by a wide range of businesses, including several clothing firms.

Hammondsville's PTA Plans Party

HAMMONDSVILLE — Plans were made for a Halloween party for students to be held Oct. 27 when the Hammondsville Parent-Teacher Association met Monday night.

The group will sponsor a bake sale Nov. 10 at the Gruszecki building.

Mrs. Ruth Crowe, the president, presided.

A film, "Santa Fe and the Trail," was screened by Joan Sprague, program chairman.

The attendance banner was won by the first grade room of Mrs. Lena Crooks and the fourth grade room of Mrs. Marie Myers.

Okay For Those Who Register Marriages

Health Minister Sushila Nayar interjected, "No, no, at time of registration of the marriage." Bahadur replied, "Oh, that's all right for those who register marriages."

Ex-Convict Will Be Quizzed In '62 Slaying Of Ohio Coed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Their initial enthusiasm was somewhat tempered, but Columbus police were betting a first-degree murder warrant today they finally had their answers to a slaying that had stymied them for four years.

Two detectives took the warrant to Oklahoma City with orders to question thoroughly the ex-convict who police said Monday volunteered a remarkable knowledge of unpublished circumstances in the Sept. 20, 1962, slaying of Mary Margaret Andrews.

Miss Andrews, a 19-year-old Columbus Business University coed from Winterville, a Steubenville suburb, was fatally shot in the head in a garage. Police said she evidently had been subjected to an unnatural sex act.

Hundreds of possible suspects have been questioned about the slaying that shocked the Buckeye capital.

One, questioned several times, is now serving a sentence in Ohio Penitentiary as a habitual criminal after confessing robberies but denying the murder.

Then Herbert A. Golightly, 26, of Dallas, Tex., was arrested over the weekend at Oklahoma City on a forgery charge—and, police say, blurted out that he and the Ohio prisoner were involved in the killing.

Columbus Police Chief Robert Baus said replies Golightly gave to questions posed by Oklahoma authorities at Columbus officers' prompting indicated he had knowledge about the slaying which had not been made public.

The warrant was obtained. Hopes waned a bit, however, when it was learned Golightly had volunteered information about another slaying, in Arizona, which turned out to have been committed while he was in custody.

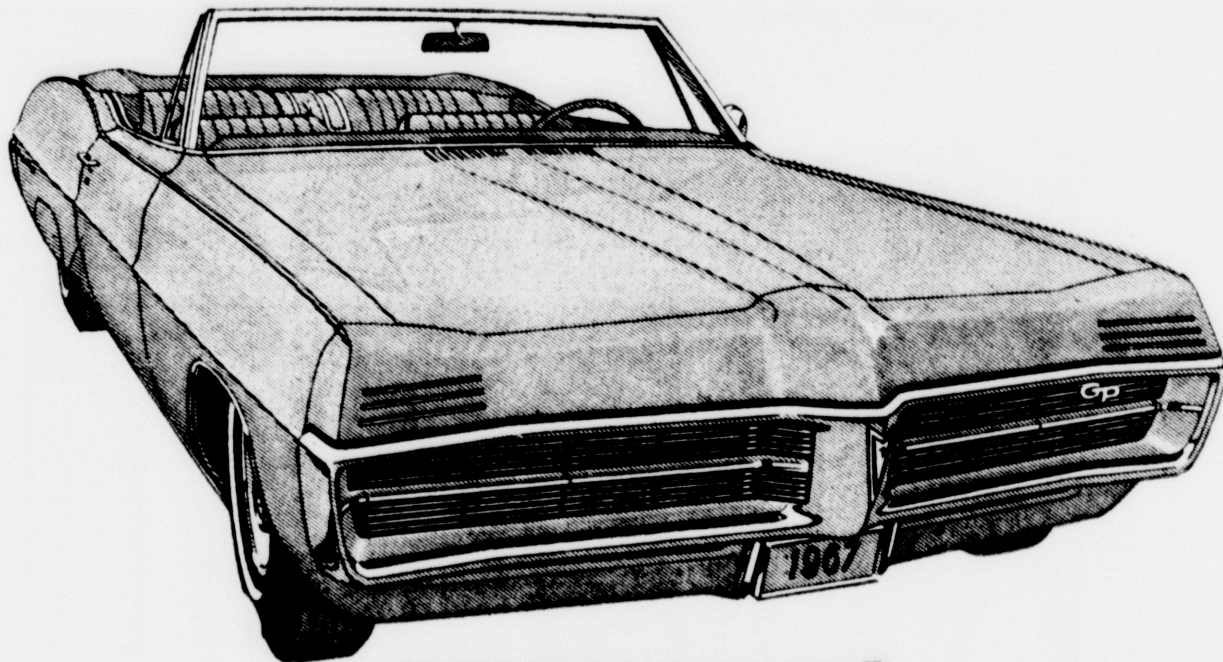

Word was that Golightly would waive extradition to Ohio, if today's questioning proved basis for bringing him here to face the murder charge.

Meantime, Baus said investigators had not established whether Golightly, with a police record in Dallas and Denton, Tex., Hobbs, N.M., and Huntsville, Ala., and the Ohio Penitentiary prisoner actually had any connection.

There was no record on Golightly here.

No. 1 spot in The Associated Press' weekly high school football poll.

The Big Red walloped Toledo Macomber 40-0 last Friday for their sixth straight victory and garnered 203 poll points.

Niles (6-0) moved past Sandusky into the runnerup position with 169 points while the Blue Streaks (6-0) fell to third on 141 points.

Rounding out the elite group were Upper Arlington (6-0), Columbus Wattersen (6-0), Hamilton Garfield (5-0), Cincinnati Elder (5-0), Dover (6-0), Louisville (6-0) and Portsmouth (5-1).

The last three teams crashed the top ten as Warren Harding and Mansfield Madison dropped out along with Massillon.

The Tigers lost to Altoona, Pa., 20-14. Mansfield Madison was a 28-14 victim of Dover and Warren bowed to Alliance 22-13.

The ratings could be in for another shakeup next week as No. 4 Arlington visits twice-beaten Massillon, now ranked 11th; No. 1 Steubenville is at home to dangerous Canton McKinley and No. 3 Sandusky comes to grips with unbeaten Elyria (6-0).

In the Class A race for honors, Marion Catholic held first place by one slim point over Millersport. Both show 6-0 records. Portsmouth Notre Dame (5-0) was rated third, followed by Clear Fork, Columbus Academy, Union, Stanton Local, New Albany, Bridgeport and Brookville.

Union knocked Piketon from the top ten with a 16-0 victory and Millersport ousted Berne Union with a 20-0 triumph.

Scholastic sidelights—Steubenville will be anxious to avenge some one-sided thrashings at the hands of Canton McKinley Friday night.

The two schools didn't meet last year but the Bulldogs won in 1963, 60-0, and again in 1964, 70-0. McKinley, beaten three times this season, has bowed to rugged Niles, Warren Harding and Cleveland St. Joseph.

No. 9 Louisville has won 34 in a row. Mansfield Madison is coached by ex-Ohio State Lenzie Fontes, whose younger brother Arnie is a current member of the Bucks.

No. 2 Millersport, with a 17-game winning streak and only one loss in its last 37 contests, has allowed only six points in the last 67 quarters.

Portsmouth Notre Dame, third-rated among the small schools, has a 20-game winning streak alive. No. 4 Clear Fork has 20 straight but risks that record against tough Fredericktown Friday.

No. 9 Bridgeport had its 17-game winning streak snapped by Weirton, W. Va., Madonna, 15-12 last Saturday.

Hamilton Badin knocked off Oxford Talawanda 30-8 for the Rams' 28th consecutive victory. Lima Senior turned in an impressive 28-0 triumph over Hamilton Taft Friday.

Steve Kockeran scored 20 points in Dover's 28-14 decision over Mansfield Madison.

Top-ranked Marion Catholic lost its all-state fullback candidate when it beat Mount Gilead 22-0. Tim Grady, who had scored 56 points and rolled up 814 yards in 129 carries, suffered a broken leg on the first play of the second quarter. Gardy had gained 113 yards in the first quarter.

Class A Cuyahoga Heights has now registered five straight shutouts, all against AA opposition.

Injunction Sought To Halt Hockey Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Blades of the Western Hockey League have asked superior court for an injunction to stop formation of a National Hockey League team in the Los Angeles area.

A suit, filed Monday, charges that Los Angeles sportsman Jack Kent Cooke "unlawfully induced" the National Hockey League to grant a franchise to him.

Powell Is Voted Comeback Hero

By MIKE RHEA

BALTIMORE (AP) — It's not that John (Boog) Powell isn't grateful and honored, but he hopes there will never be another reason to select him as Comeback Player of the Year in the American League.

"It's one award I don't want to win again," said Powell on Monday, when informed of his selection in The Associated Press poll. "I consider it an honor, but once is enough."

The 250-pound first baseman hit 34 homers in the regular season, had 109 runs batted in, and a .287 batting average. He polled 124 votes in the balloting by 312 baseball writers.

Powell was runner-up in RBI, third in homers and fourth in batting. In 1965, he hit only 248 with 17 homers and 72 runs batted in.

Another Oriole, shortstop Luis Aparicio, was second in the voting with 32 votes and California Angels hurler Jack Sanford was third with 27.

Aparicio, who has returned to his home in Venezuela for the winter, had threatened to retire following the 1965 season in which he batted .225. He claimed that his wife convinced him to make another try and he thanked her publicly at the end of this season. Aparicio batted .276 in 151 games for his best year since 1960, when he hit .277 for the Chicago White Sox.

Sanford compiled a 13-7 record for the Angels, pitching in 50 games, 45 in relief. Last year with San Francisco of the National League, the 37-year-old right-hander was 5-7. He had 24 victories for the Giants in 1962 and 16 in 1963. In 1964 he underwent elbow surgery.

Gilchrist Finally Finds Job On New Miami Team

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mighty Cookie Gilchrist, who collects old swords for hobby and has needed front offices from Kitchener, Ont., to Buffalo to Denver in his 13 years as a pro football player, has been acquired by the Miami Dolphins.

The 31-year-old controversial fullback was snapped by the Dolphins Monday after the Denver Broncos put him on waivers. In exchange, American Football League President Milt Woodard ruled that Miami must give Denver its third and fifth draft choices in January.

The 6-foot-2, 250-pound Gilchrist was put on the Broncos' reserve list at the beginning of the season after Denver contended that he had refused to play.

In his ruling, Woodard stated that Cookie failed to report to camp July 30 and when Denver put him on reserve he could not be reactivated to play on the club.

Gilchrist, a Breckenridge, Pa., native, first came to the AFL in 1962 with the Buffalo Bills, gaining over 1,000 yards that year. In 1963 he gained over 900 and again over 1,000 in 1964.

When he was traded to Denver in 1965, Gilchrist bettered 900 yards.

While at Buffalo, in 1963, he set an all-time professional one-game mark by gaining 247 yards.

Bob Swift, Ex-Catcher, Claimed By Lung Cancer

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Swift, baseball's greatest pinch-manager, died Monday of lung cancer. He was 51.

Swift, a one-time major league catcher, posted winning records twice with the Detroit Tigers and once with the Kansas City Athletics when called to the manager's job on an interim basis because of illnesses.

This past season he took over the Tigers a second time when Manager Charlie Dressen suffered his second heart attack. Swift himself had to be relieved shortly after the All Star Game. He entered a hospital for a stomach ailment and it was found he had lung cancer. Frank Skaff piloted the Tigers to the end of the season and then Mayo Smith was named to the post.

When Harry Craft became ill in 1959, Swift filled in and led the A's to a 13-2 record. He didn't get the job, however, when the A's let Craft go.

In 1965, Dressen suffered a heart attack during spring training and Swift led Detroit to a 24-18 record and third place before giving the reins back to Dressen.

This season, Dressen suffered a heart attack in May and the team compiled a 32-25 record before Swift was sidelined. Dressen died Aug. 10. Coach Frank Skaff replaced Swift in July. The Tigers finished third and hired ex-New York Yankee Scout Mayo Smith for next season.

Services will be held Wednesday in Detroit with burial Friday in Salina, Kan.

Neely Might Play 1 More For Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — Ralph Neely, the ace Dallas offensive tackle awarded by the courts to Houston of the American Football League, lost another legal skirmish Monday but still may be in the lineup for one more National Football League game.

Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan refused to grant a petition to Dallas attorneys to delay the notice of last Monday's Supreme Court refusal to review a lower court holding that Neely's contract with the Houston Oilers was valid.

Notices of Supreme Court actions ordinarily are mailed in about a week. Cowboy officials were hopeful the notice will not be received by the Denver Court of Appeals, which ruled the Oilers contract valid, until after Sunday's game with the Browns at Cleveland.

Also, the Indians brought up pitcher Vincente Romo from their Portland club in the Pacific League. Romo, a right-hander, had a 17-7 mark with Mexico City last season.

Smith, 27, batted .184 with one home run and 20 RBIs in 89 games with the Angels. Banks batted .250 at Portland in 122 games.

Indians Trade Banks To Angels For Smith

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians traded infielder George Banks to the California Angels for outfielder Willie Smith Monday.

Also, the Indians brought up pitcher Vincente Romo from their Portland club in the Pacific League. Romo, a right-hander, had a 17-7 mark with Mexico City last season.

Smith, 27, batted .184 with one home run and 20 RBIs in 89 games with the Angels. Banks batted .250 at Portland in 122 games.

Pro Football Gets Closer With Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National and American Football Leagues drove toward the goal of congressional approval for their merger today after a tricky handoff faked out the main opponent.

While Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., apparently had blocked off the merger bill from his position as House Judiciary Committee chairman, congressional supporters slipped the provision onto a tax bill and past Celler's grasp.

House and Senate approval for the tax bill, including exemption of the football merger from antitrust action, is almost certain.

The vote will come this week. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle had argued for weeks that unless Congress would guarantee that the merger could not be tied up in courts, plans for the creation of a superleague would have to be dropped.

Now, apparently a championship game between the NFL and AFL titlists will be able to go on as scheduled at the end of the season.

The Senate earlier this fall passed a similar measure but it was tied up in Celler's committee.

Buffalo Star Leading AFL In Rushing

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Burnett, Buffalo's Smackover Kid, has powered the Bills into the American Football League's team rushing lead with the best individual performance of the season.

Burnett, a rookie from the University of Arkansas by way of Smackover, Ark., gained 138 yards on 27 carries in last Sunday's 17-17 tie with San Diego — both single-game highs this season.

His 377 yards in seven games has led the Bills to the top spot in rushing offense. Their 139.5-yard average per-game on the ground leads Kansas City, Boston and Houston, the only other AFL clubs with a plus-100 yard rushing average.

The New York Jets, who led in five of six statistical departments three weeks ago, fail to lead in any for the first time after their 24-0 loss to Houston Sunday. The Oilers climbed into the total offense lead with a 328.5-yard per-game average.

Injured Skiing Star Points To Olympics

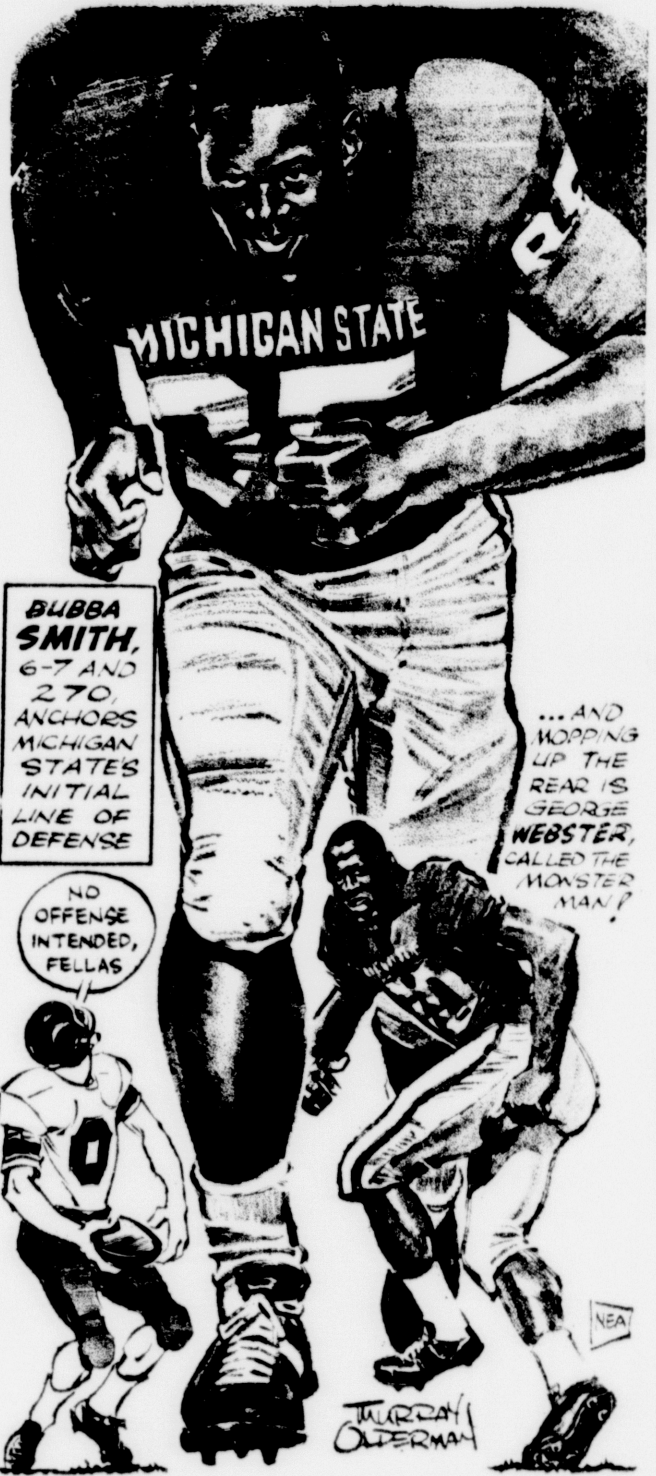

STOWE, Vt. (AP) — Billy Kidd, the injured skiing star from Stowe, says don't count him out of the Winter Olympics in 1968.

Kidd was presented Monday night with the New England Council's annual silver bowl award for outstanding contributions to New England skiing.

Kidd still has a cast on his right leg, smashed two days before the start of the International Ski Races at Portillo, Chile, last summer.

He told Council members the cast must stay on six months to a year, but said he expects to start skiing again next summer or fall. And he said he hopes to be in the 1968 Olympics.

Browns In Good Physical Shape For Dallas Game

CLEVELAND (AP) — Except for Walter Beach, the Cleveland Browns should be in excellent physical shape for Sunday's game against the Dallas Cowboys.

"Right now I'm not counting on Walter except for emergency duty," Coach Blanton Collier said Monday of the defensive back.

Beach has been sidelined with a pulled calf muscle. Tackle Dick Schafrath told a Touchdown Club luncheon Monday that defensive tackle Frank Parker "is just about back to 100 per cent movement." Parker has been out with a knee injury and sprained ankle.

On the other side, the Cowboys, undefeated in the National Football League's Eastern Division along with St. Louis, also are reported in good shape.

Eagles Tim Brown Does Acting During Day Off

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP) — When the Philadelphia Eagles kid Timmy Brown acted in the business in summer stock at Bucks County in Pennsylvania, playing in the Thruer Carnival with Dodie Goodman and Eddie Bracken.

"I divide my life in six months football and six months with my other career," he said. "Timmy is a sensitive man with great pride in his ability. He is disappointed because he is not having as good a football season as he hoped."

"Maybe I expect too much of myself," he said. "My friends will tell you that I never think I have had a good game."

Timmy had a good day against Pittsburgh Sunday when he carried 23 times for 96 yards, scoring two touchdowns and a field goal.

"I don't like to use football in connection with my acting career," said Timmy who has made several recordings as a popular singer. "I started singing five years ago and made some recordings — all bombs. I

Farmhands Promoted By Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gerry Arrigo is back on the Cincinnati Reds' roster as the result of the latest promotion of farmhands during the off season.

The 25-year-old southpaw was one of eight players whose promotion was announced Monday by club President William O. DeWitt. Arrigo appeared in three games for the Reds last season before going to the New York Mets.

Another addition to the roster was Dan McGinn, a former Notre Dame football star and left-handed pitcher who is now in the service. He posted a 2-1 mark at Knoxville this year.

The other newcomers are pitchers Jack Earl and John Noriega; catcher John Bench; infielders Bernie Carbo and Hal McRae; and outfielder John Fenderson.

Fenderson batted .324 for Knoxville and led the Southern League in batting while Noriega had a 2-6 record with the same club.

Bench, a husky 19-year-old from Binger, Okla., missed part of the 1966 season because of a thumb fracture. He hit 22 home runs and drove in 68 runs in 99 games at Peninsula in the Carolina League. Carbo, a 19-year-old third baseman, batted .269 and hit 15 home runs for the same club.

McRae also played for Peninsula and finished the season with a .287 batting average and 56 runs batted in.

Earl, a 21-year-old right-hander, won 13 games and lost 14 at Tampa in his first season of professional baseball.

The additions brought the Reds' roster to 41 players.

Man Arrested Attempting To Bribe LSU Gridders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI announced today the arrest of a Louisiana man on charges of trying to bribe the backfield stars of the Louisiana State University football team.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified the man as Samuel Joseph Graziano, 26, of Baton Rouge.

Hoover said Graziano is charged with trying to influence the outcome of six LSU football games this autumn.

The FBI said its investigation was conducted with the cooperation of the three players involved—halfbacks Jim Duvall and Billy Masters, and fullback Gawan de Betta.

Hoover said Graziano would be arraigned before a U.S. commissioner at Baton Rouge.

If convicted, the maximum penalty on the sports bribery charge is a $10,000 fine or five years in jail, or both.

Hoover said Graziano is a partner in the Dalton Barber Shop, Baton Rouge.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: What is the highest waterfall in the U.S.?

ANSWER: Have you recognized it by the picture? It is the mighty Yosemite Falls, which plunges down for 2,425 feet in California's Yosemite National Park. Actually, this cataract is composed of three parts: The Upper Falls, which drop 1,430 feet; the cascade in the middle, dropping 675 feet; and the Lower Falls, adding 320 feet. Yosemite Falls is the highest in America only if one considers these three parts to be parts of one waterfall. If you don't look at it this way, the Ribbon, another California waterfall, would get the grand prize, for it plunges down an uninterrupted 1,612 feet.

To give you some conception of the height of the Yosemite Falls, we have drawn next to it a famous building which we hope you will have recognized—it is the Empire State Building in New York City. This building is 1,250 feet high (not counting the television tower) so that one can say that the height of the combined Yosemite Falls is about double that of the Empire State.

FOR YOU TO DO: Is Yosemite Falls the tallest in the world? No. Find out about the tallest one. A hint: It has an unbroken drop of 2,648 feet and a total drop of 3,212 feet.

Shirley Walker of Tyler, Tex., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Federal Official Airs City Need Of Public Transport

A federal official remained in East Liverpool today to continue a study launched Monday afternoon on East Liverpool's public transportation problems and the possibility of providing U.S. aid for their solution.

The preliminary study is being made by Thomas H. Floyd Jr. of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. He is acting director of the division of demonstration and studies of the agency's urban transportation administration.

Floyd was accompanied by

Carroll V. Hill, head of the professional consulting firm of Carroll V. Hill & Associates of Pittsburgh and Columbus, which is working on preparation of a "master plan" for East Liverpool. The two conferred this morning with Don Eckert, chairman of the City Planning Commission.

Floyd said his two-point study will seek to determine what East Liverpool's transportation problems are and determine feasible ways of solving them. If a possible solution is found, the next step will be to determine whether the federal government will provide aid in a "demonstration" of the solution, he said.

Floyd and Hill were scheduled to proceed late today to New Castle, Pa., which also is setting up a transportation study.
